Lakewood on Parade.

LAKEWOOD HIGH SCHOOL • LAKEWOOD, OHIO

Everyone loves a parade...

therefore permit us to parade before you the activities, ideals, the accomplishments of the students of Lakewood High School in this, the

1950 Cinema

We, the students of Lakewood High invite you to . . .

The parade to class

The parade for diplomas

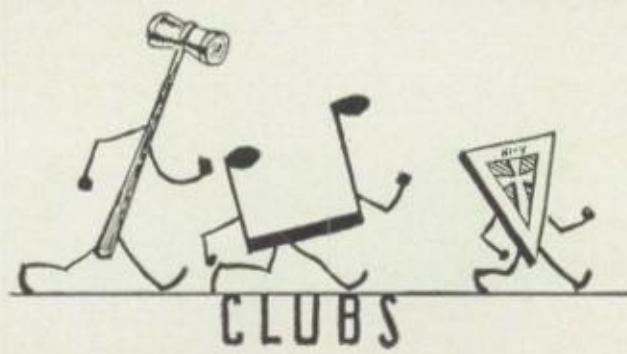

The parade of leather and lungs

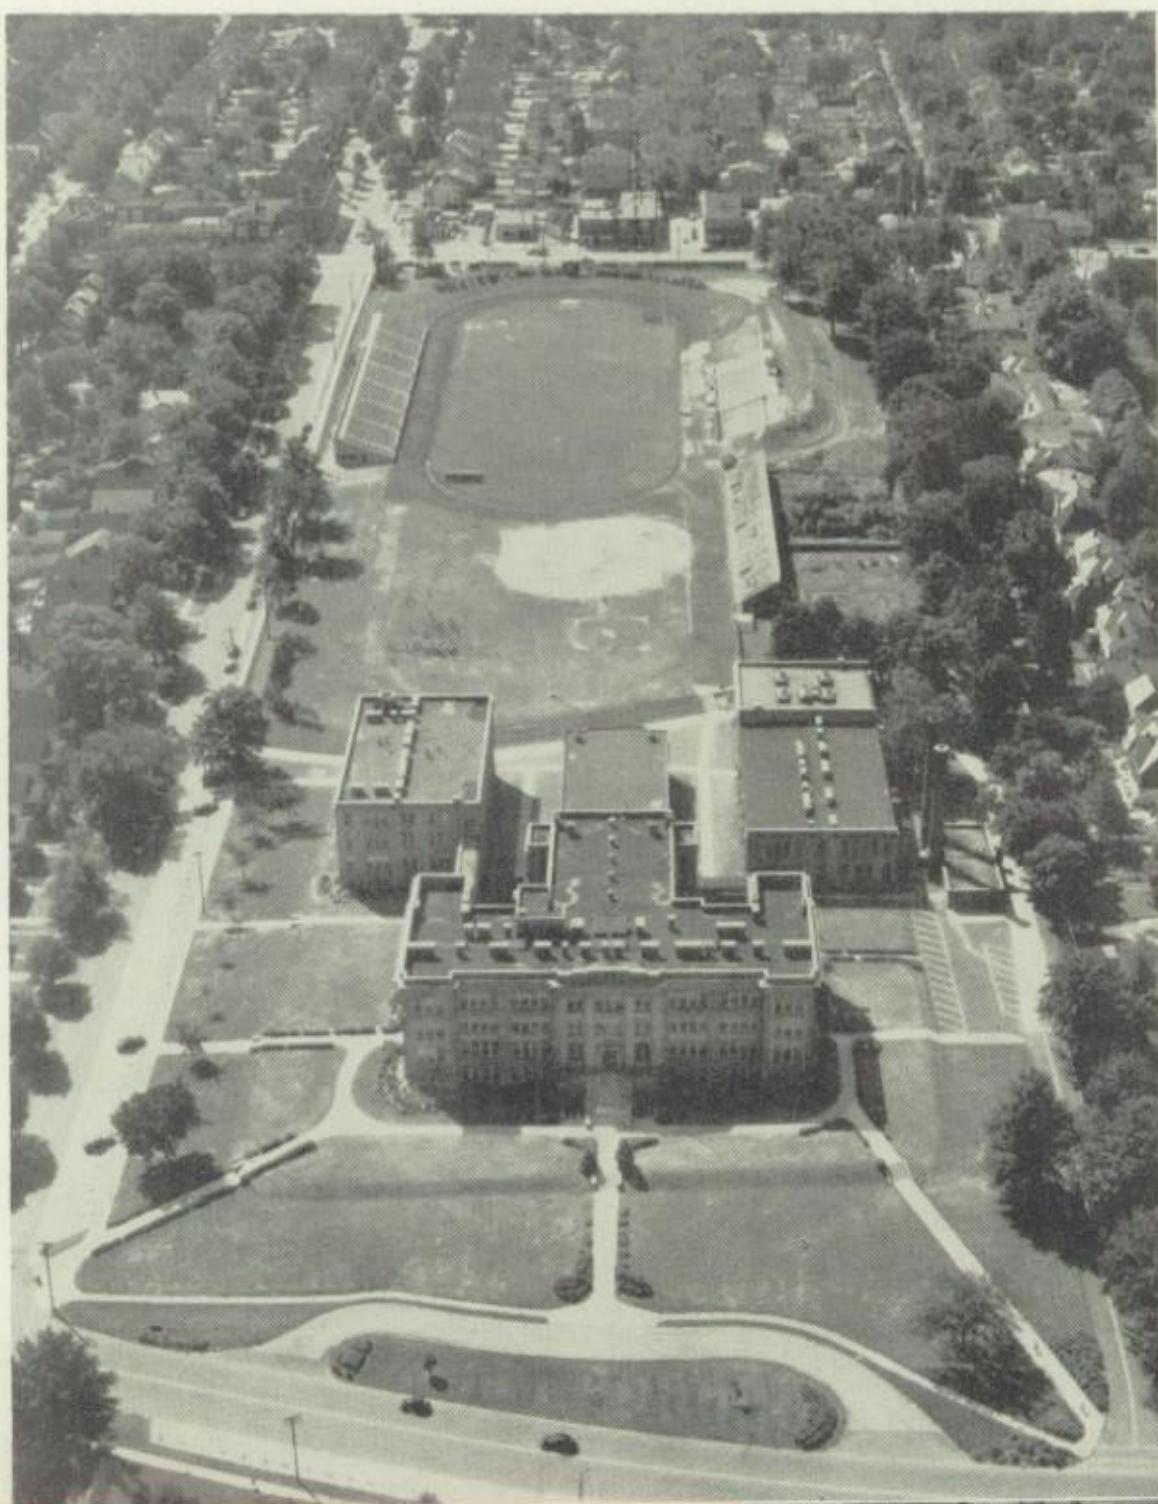

The parade of individual interests

The parade of the social scene

SPORTS

This is the scene of

Classrooms, an indoor swimming pool, playing fields, and stadium make up the extensive campus of Lakewood High.

When not occupied with other much more important interests, Lakewood students enjoy inspecting the athletic trophies won in every sport, which fill the cases at the main entrance.

Lakewood campus, our changing parade

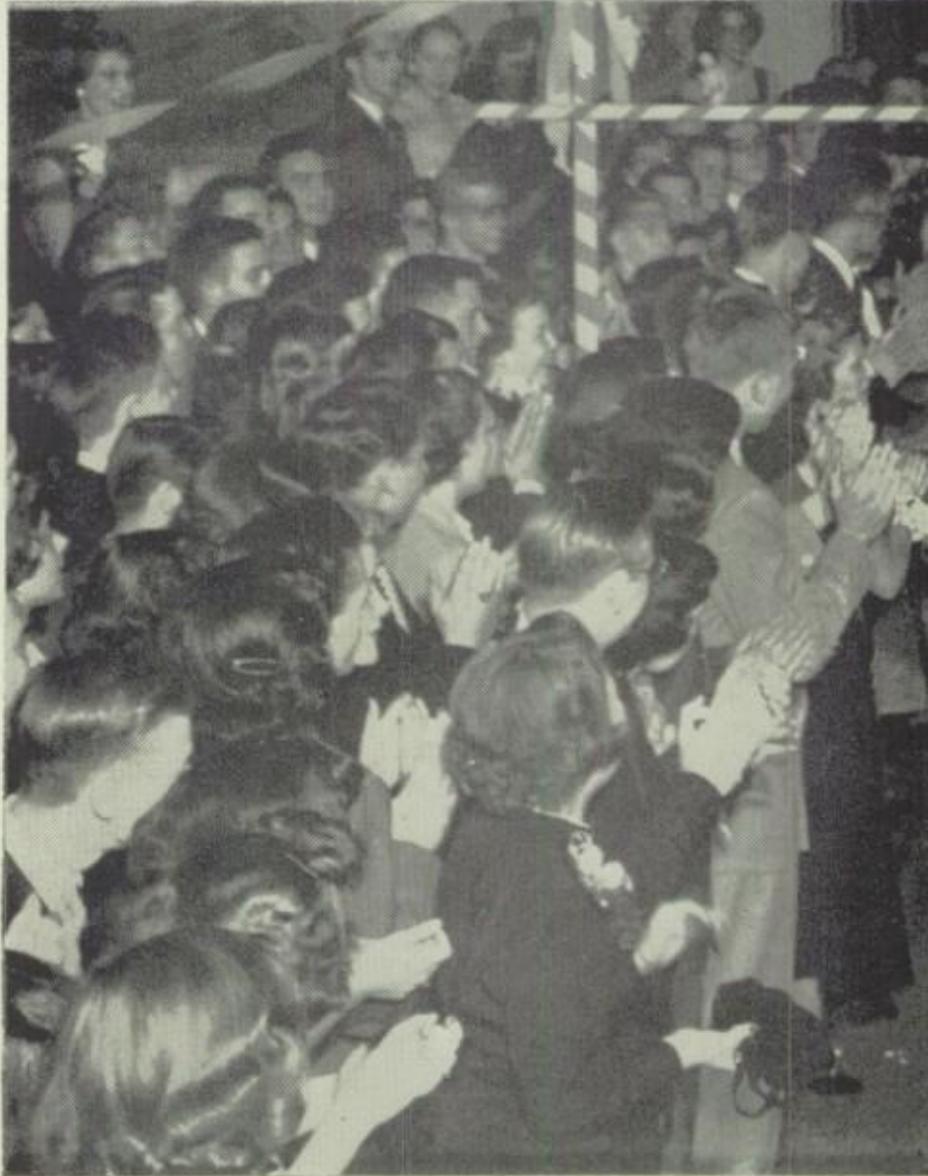

On this campus, through this door, before this fountain, we parade our hopes, our ideals, our knowledge, our activities. For three years this campus is our parade ground; but the parade does not end when we leave Lakewood High School. It goes on into the world—to Alaska, Chile, Korea, Istanbul, Iran—wherever Lakewood alumni carry the skills, ideas, ideals learned here.

On December 7, 1949, a group of students look at the flowers on the memorial fountain dedicated to alumni who died in World War I and whose names are listed on a plaque above the fountain.

Leading the parade at many Lakewood High School activities is the school band, which appeared this year in new uniforms of the school's purple and gold.

Variety keynotes life at Lakewood

The roll of drums . . . the fast beat of the Mexican Hat Dance or the sweet rhythm of "Golden Earrings" . . . the satisfaction of writing the last page to a long theme . . . a hearty chuckle from Inside Benchley . . . the excited cheering at the crack of a gun with Lakewood ahead . . . this is Lakewood.

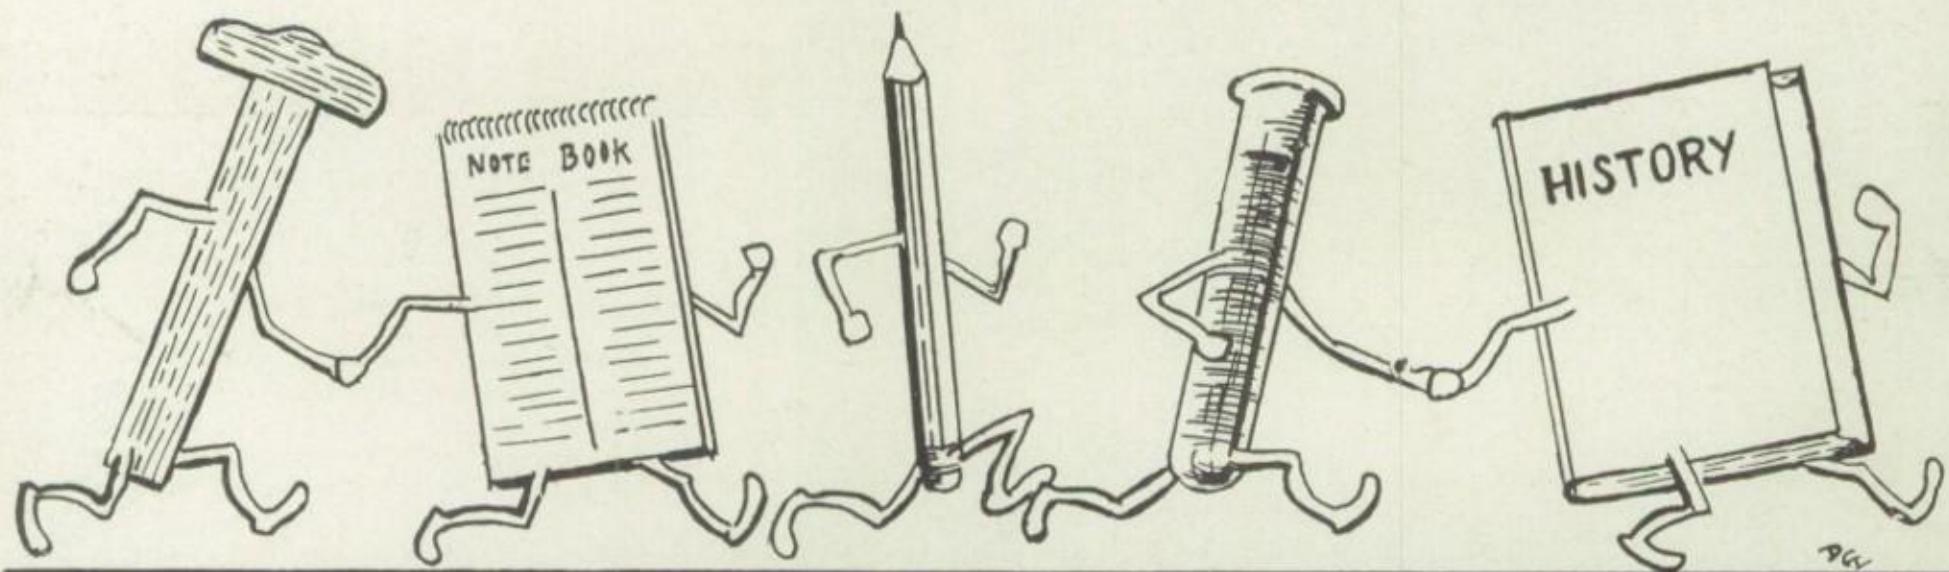

Make way for the football king and queen! Sally Watters and Jack Woods march to their coronation at the traditional Thanksgiving Football Dance.

Whether students are interested in reference material for classes or books for recreational reading, they turn to the library for its contribution to the success of the Lakewood parade.

The parade to class

The rotten egg smell of sulphur dioxide . . . the hum of lathes . . . amo, amas, amat . . . the crowd at the pencil sharpener
. . . the movie of "How Light Bulbs are Made" . . .
putting those last touches on a water color . . . the final fitting of that Easter dress . . . writing a book report . . .
the sound of the bell . . . this is the classroom.

Board of Education and Administrators Carry

Interested in the young people of Lakewood, these citizens serve as members of the Board of Education: Mr. Clarence C. Fowerbaugh, Vice-President; Mrs. H. D. Abernethy, President; Mr. Byron R. Mitchell; Mr. T. D. Auble; Mr. A. G. Graber.

In his "Farewell Address" George Washington stated that because the structure of a democratic government gives force to public opinion it is essential for public opinion to be enlightened. The position of the United States today as a great democratic nation is due, in a large part, to the fact that his advice has been followed and that the communities of this country have developed a thorough system of educating their citizens in the ways of democratic living. Each community has assumed the task of educating its own children and has delegated the responsibility of providing effective schools to an elected group of representatives in each community.

The Lakewood Board of Education by promoting progressive policies and by maintaining a sound financial position has brought recognition to the Lakewood schools as outstanding among the educational systems of the nation. Lakewood students have been given the best possible background for citizenship in this democracy. Such projects as the illuminating of the Lakewood High athletic field, the installing of auditoriums in all the elementary schools, and the planning of a new athletic and auditorium building for Lakewood High School are examples of the progressive educational planning which has kept enthusiasm high for learning here.

Out Progressive Projects in Lakewood Schools

Martin W. Essex Superintendent

"The highlight of this year's activities has been the fascinating and challenging study of plans for the new auditorium and gymnasium to be built at Lakewood High next September," said Superintendent Martin W. Essex in an interview with the editor of the CINEMA. Although his personal contacts with high school students are necessarily limited by his duties, Mr. Essex, who is now completing his third year as Superintendent of Lakewood Schools, expressed his desire to become better acquainted with the students and their activities.

Superintendent Essex is keenly interested in the students of Lakewood High and in their problems and activities.

Mr. Dickey has earned a reputation for efficiency in handling administrative details connected with the schools.

Samuel S. Dickey Assistant Superintendent

One of the people who is directly responsible for maintaining an efficient educational system in Lakewood is Assistant Superintendent Samuel S. Dickey. Under his jurisdiction are such exceedingly important details as employing office personnel, purchasing many school supplies, keeping the annual budget, and supervising the upkeep of all the Lakewood school buildings.

Faculty Leaders Promote Democratic Policies

Principal Mahlon A. Povenmire discusses plans for school improvements with fall Student Council officers Dick Savage and Barbara Burkett. Many of our school projects and parties are planned at just such informal talks as this.

Mahlon A. Povenmire Principal

One of the most important functions of a modern high school is to acquaint the students with democratic principles by giving them the opportunity to plan and carry out their own activities. Since his arrival at Lakewood High School in 1948, Principal Mahlon A. Povenmire has placed much emphasis on the development of self-responsibility on the part of the student body. His desire to give students as much voice as possible in school affairs has been shown by his support of the activities of the Student Council and the various other school clubs.

In addition to keeping the Lakewood High School program running smoothly and efficiently, Mr. Povenmire in his friendly, courteous manner has maintained a close relationship with the students and their activities. He has done much to encourage and promote the effective work of student-faculty committees dealing with such phases of school life as school parties and assemblies. The resulting increase in the democratic and community spirit in the school has been one of the major accomplishments of Mr. Povenmire's administration at Lakewood High.

With Student Groups Planning School Activities

Lucy Helen Kimball Dean of Girls

By her understanding guidance, Miss Lucy Helen Kimball, Dean of Girls, has added to the success of many school activities. Miss Kimball spends much of her time supervising the work of the Student Council. And she is also the adviser of the 12B Chapter of Friendship. With all these responsibilities Miss Kimball still finds time to act as an unofficial assistant and counselor to all Lakewood High School students seeking aid.

Robert L. Meeks Assistant Principal

Serving as assistant principal and as Dean of Boys, Mr. Robert L. Meeks supervises much of the routine of arranging schedules and investigating tardiness and absence. In addition to these responsibilities, Mr. Meeks acts as a personal counselor to the boys of Lakewood High. His quiet, frank, and helpful advice has aided many students to overcome successfully the many difficulties with which they have been confronted here.

Miss Kimball, dean of girls and Student Council faculty adviser, helps Beverly Weir work out a seating problem.

Mr. Meeks, assistant principal, also acts as dean of boys. Here he helps Lynden Gillis with his college application.

Panel Discussions and Outside Reading Broaden

English seven students enjoy using the Atlantic Monthly in which they study contemporary writing and authors.

English 7 is primarily a composition course in which the term paper, among other things, is an important project for students.

American history classes find the discussion of current events, world problems an interesting part of their work.

In addition to studying the past, history classes read daily newspapers and magazines in order to understand current events.

Scope of Student's Knowledge and Personality

English

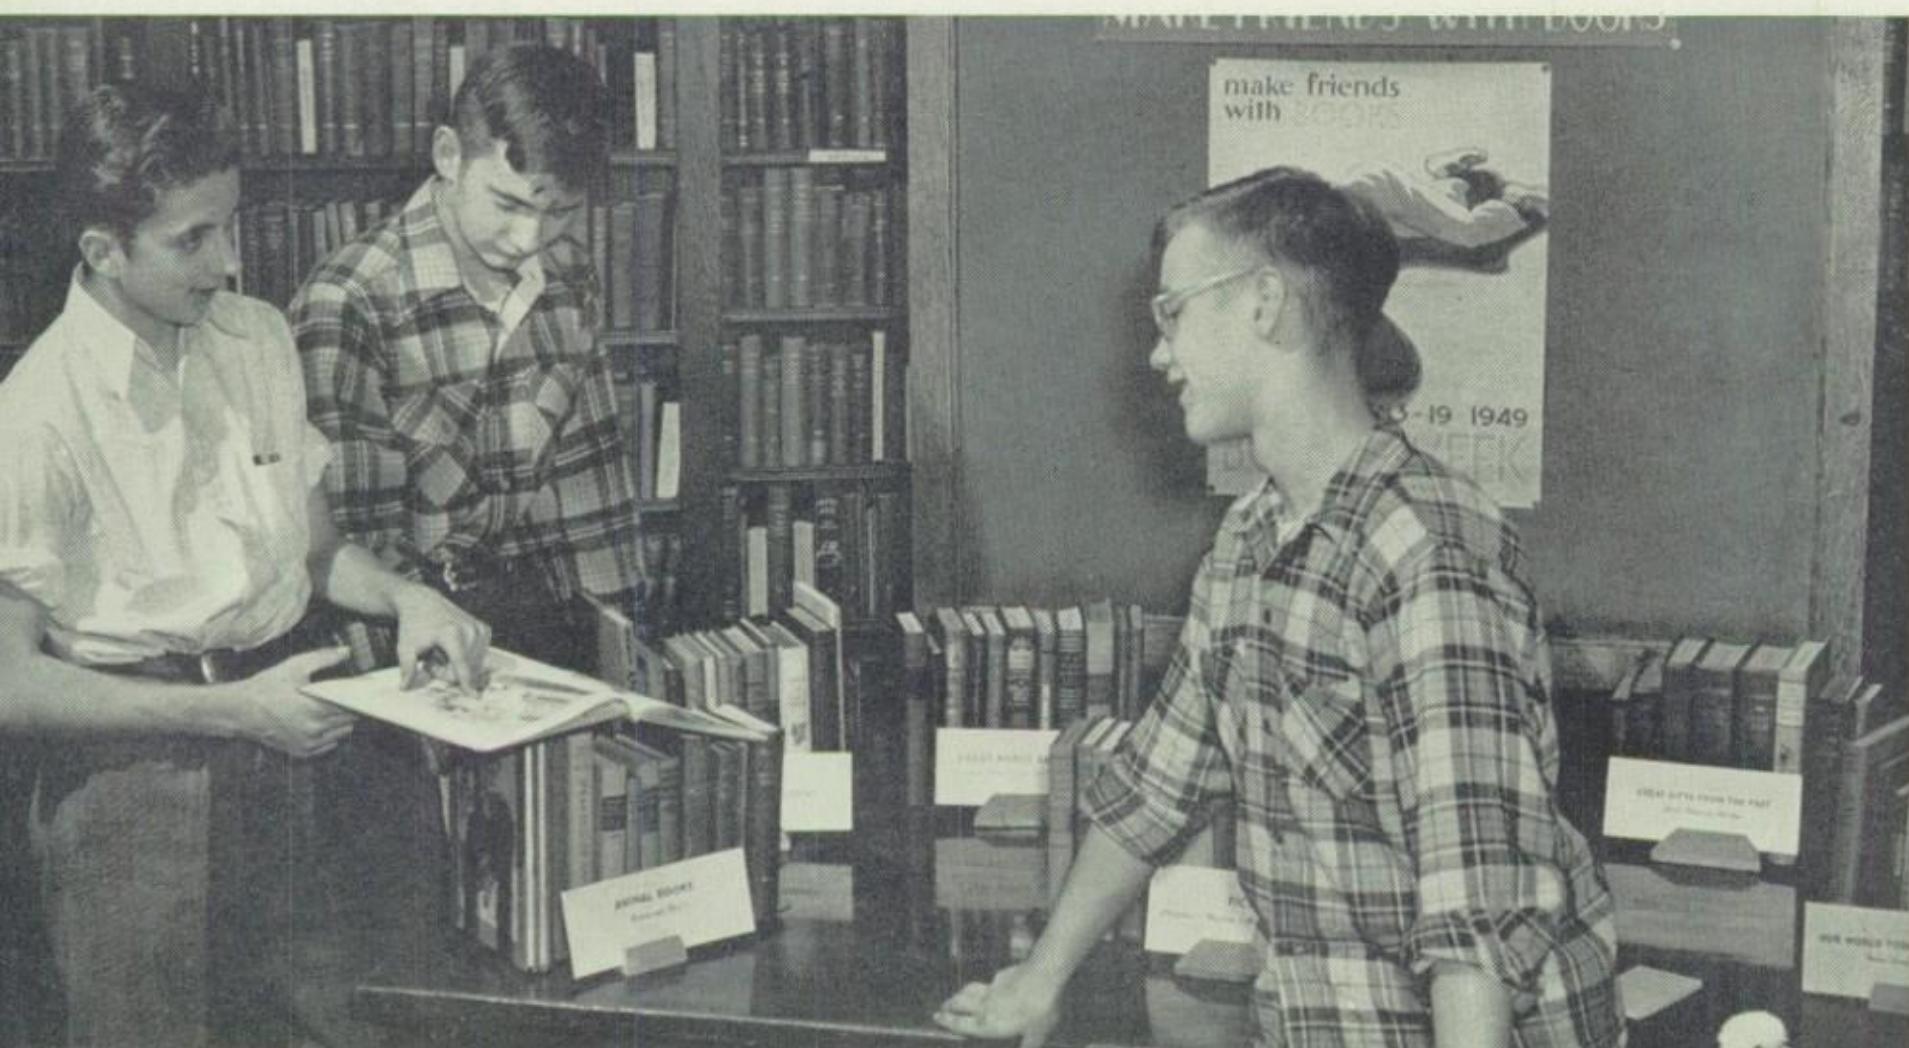

Emphasizing the basic skills of communication—reading, writing, speaking, and listening, the English department also meets the individual interests of the students in literature, journalism, and speaking.

Social Studies

Appreciating the achievements and problems of other countries as well as our own, and understanding the relation of cause and effect in history are objectives of courses in history, economics, sociology at Lakewood.

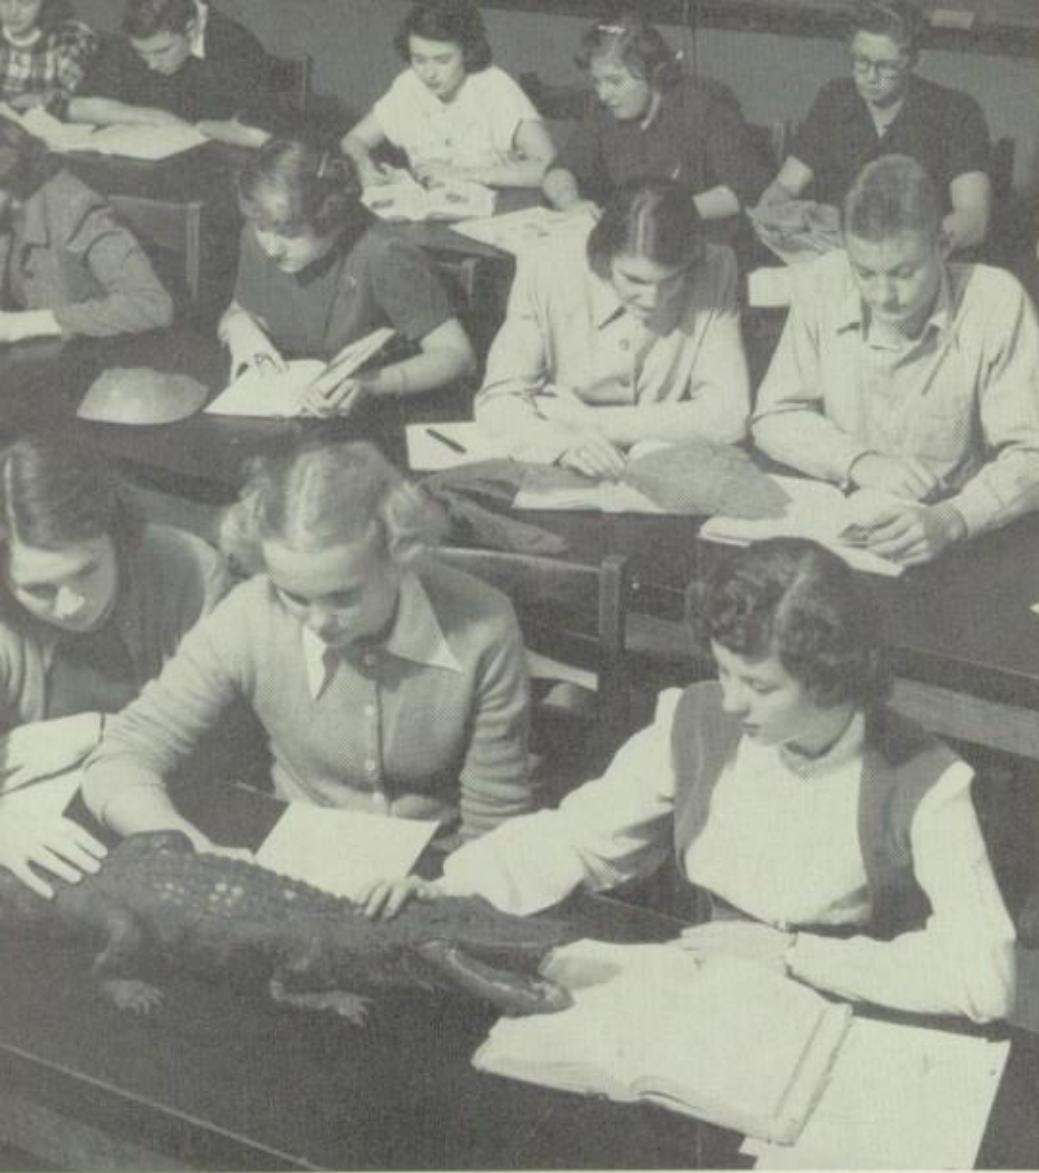

Library

If Miss Edmonson schedules a book report or Mr. Huffman assigns a talk on the Boxer Rebellion, the student's first thought is the library. The answers to many problems can be pulled off the shelves, and the library assistants will find the right shelf for the right problem. The library offers recreation as well as instruction. One can find everything from "Party Games" to "David Copperfield," "Tennis and How It's Played" to "Seven Recipes for Hungarian Goulash."

Book Week brought about the display of new books. Boys browsing in the library found enjoyment in the illustrations and colorful book jackets.

"Book Week" is traditional at LHS, and the library celebrates with displays on the walls, tables, and in the showcases.

These biology students supplement their text books with studies of actual specimens of plant and animal life.

Biology

To learn about growing plants, to find out how the lungs work, to examine amoebae under a microscope—these are some of the aims of the students enrolled in biology, physiology, and horticulture classes here.

Chemistry-Physics

What makes electricity? Why doesn't asbestos burn? How can gasoline power an automobile? Chemistry, physics, and aeronautics classes enable the student to discover the answers for himself through experience.

Laboratory Classes Offer Opportunities to the

By means of experiments such as this one with the inclined plane physics students learn about mechanics.

Mathematics

Students preparing for work in chemistry and physics find a knowledge of mathematics essential. For those planning to go into such professions, courses in trigonometry and calculus supplement geometry and algebra.

Technical

Supplementing book knowledge, technical courses employ experience as a teacher. The student learns how to repair cars by repairing them, how to make blueprints by making them, and how to set type by setting it.

Plane geometry students, trying to solve construction problems, receive help at the blackboard from Mr. Harger.

Student for Experience Through Experimenting

Students taking drafting, one of the many technical subjects offered, learn accuracy in making their drawings.

Art

To create objects in color and form has long been a means of self expression. The art department offers commercial art, interior decorating, and metal and jewelry for students with creative ability. The techniques and history of the masters is studied in the history and appreciation of art. History, politics, and religions of nations are frequently expressed in works of art, and from their study a student may learn of the world and its peoples. In art a student finds the place of beauty in a practical world.

During spring and fall members of art classes enjoy sketching trips to the school's garden behind the stadium.

Creative Expression and Knowledge of Other

From carefully planned blueprints, the students in art classes in advanced design construct modern houses.

Music

Studying for a career in music, learning to appreciate "Aida," or just wanting to saw his own fiddle—whatever his interest, a student can find an opportunity to satisfy it in Lakewood High School music department.

Languages

French, Spanish, Latin, and German are not just so many verbs and nouns. They are people, with customs, histories, countries, and fashions. Language skill and appreciation are the aims of the department.

Members of boys' glee clubs are tested by Mr. Evans to discover talent for junior and senior A Cappella Choirs.

Cultures Increase Students' Appreciation

In the trial of Julius Caesar reenacted by the Latin class, a new touch is added with Shakespeare's Portia.

Students Are Offered Training to Aid Them in

Home Nursing

In the home nursing course girls are given practical instruction not only in the care of the sick but also in planning balanced diets and health programs which help prevent any future illnesses.

Hospital

Assisting Mrs. Garrett, the school nurse, with medical check ups and filing records are Ann Linden, Lee Harouvis, Norma Limburg, Suzanne Higley, Nancy Nordahl, (Mrs. Garrett), Dot Heidloff, Connie Crothers, Marguerite Olsen and Hattie Dubber who are assigned to the hospital for one period daily.

Homemaking, Nursing, and Secretarial Careers

Home Economics

"She can bake a cherry pie" and she can tailor her clothes, budget her income, and manage a home if she has taken courses offered by the Home Economics Department which prepares girls for homemaking careers.

Health

The Hospital is a vital part of our Health Program. Making up the staff are the school nurse, Mrs. Garrett, and a doctor, who supervises the examinations of all students and consults with the parents when necessary.

Business

The Business Department of Lakewood High believes in practical instruction as well as the classroom teaching of business fundamentals and hand skills. Films, field trips, and new equipment, plus a choice of eleven courses covering all phases of basic business, add interest to the life of the commercial student. The purchase of forty new typewriters and two adding machines and a visit by retail selling classes to the May Company are examples of the Business Department's progressive teaching techniques.

Business classes in office practice learn how to operate dictaphones, duplicating machines and electric calculating machines.

Physical Education

Use Stadium Field

Modern Robin Hoods, Elina Wirenus and Beverly Weir, draw their bows and sight the target, hoping for a bull's eye as they practice for the girls' tournament.

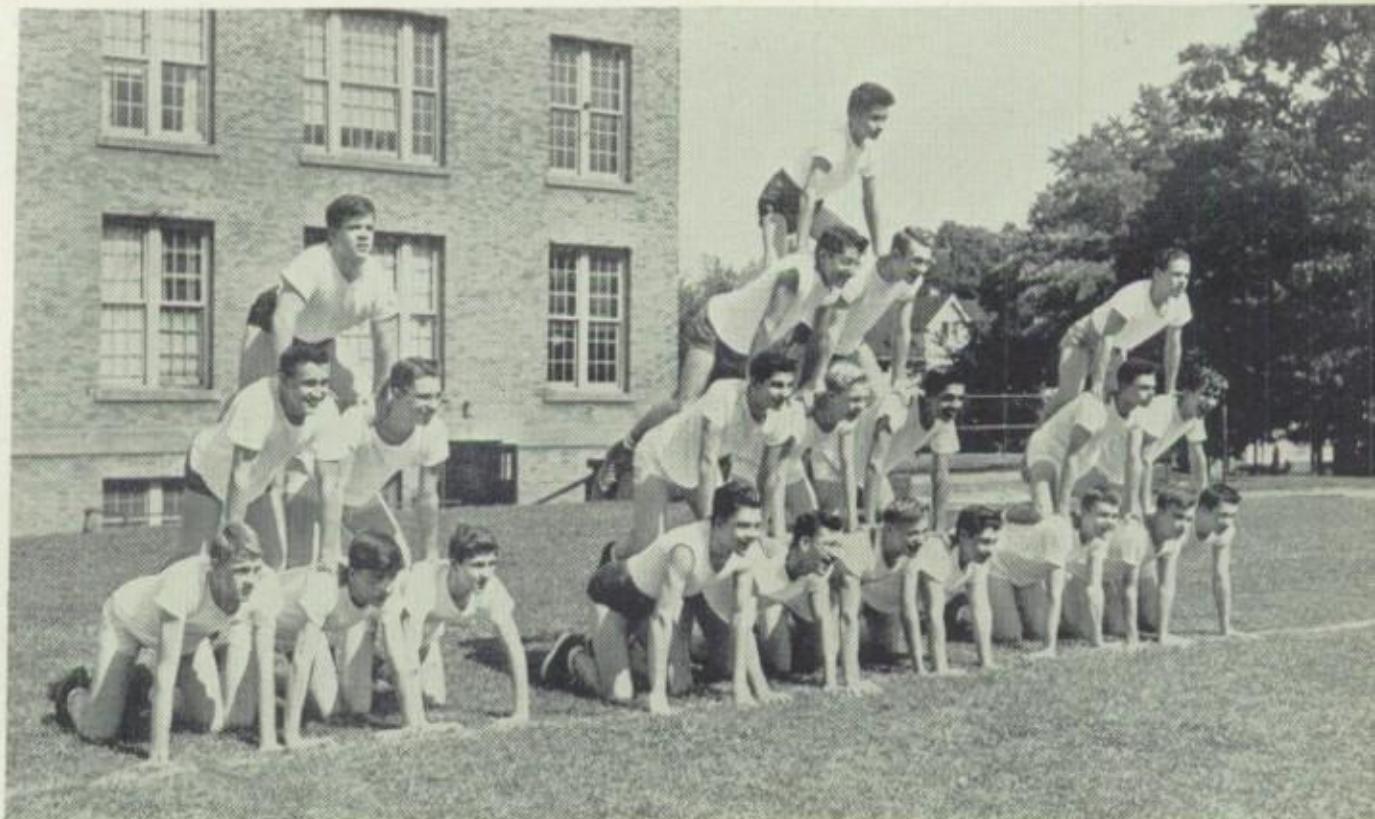

Teamwork is the password in a fast game of soccer. Soccer and baseball, two popular sports, are played during regular class periods.

Classes Stress Health, for Outdoor Sports

New to Lakewood's curriculum this year is a health course taught by the instructors of the Physical Education Department and required of all tenth graders for one grading period. Planned to encourage cooperation in school, home, and community health programs, the unit includes such topics as mental and emotional health, family living, and prevention of disease. Also included for both boys and girls is the sports program.

Right: Boys' gym classes develop coordination, poise, and balance by such exercises as pyramid-building.

All's fair in love, war, and sissy games including pushing, biting, gouging, and mayhem in general.

Members of the Counselors' group are (ROW 1) Miss Emery, Miss Kleinmeyer, Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Johnson, Miss Kimball, Mr. Bixler; (ROW 2) Mr. Cook, Mr. Hutson, Mr. Spade, Mr. Findley, Mr. Meeks.

Student Projects Sponsored by Faculty Members

Cafeteria

Managed by Miss Betts, the Cafeteria of LHS furnishes lunches which are served by student help to teachers and pupils.

Hungry students wait in line for the balanced diet served to them by the cafeteria helpers.

Mrs. Klaameyer, Mrs. Thomas, and Mrs. Madden are assisted in the Main Office by students Arlene Schroeder and Joyce Vandeveer.

Office Is Center for Records and Information

Efficient is the word which may be applied to the manner in which the Main Office of Lakewood High School is managed. Here is the place where files, records, and other

The Keystone and Torch of Honor Society Are

Lower left: D. Jones, N. Dubrawsky, C. Coates, B. Hartwick arrange induction ceremony of National Honor Society

Upper right: D. Schwartz and J. Martindale have dessert before entertaining the guests at the Honor Society party.

Lower right: Nancy Dubrawsky introduces the assembly speaker, Dr. A. J. Hotz, at the Honor Society induction.

At the two dessert meetings of the Honor Society, student speakers' satirical addresses were a spicy contrast to the more serious talks by Principal Mahlon A. Povenmire and Rev. Marvin E. Wilts. Chosen on the basis of character, willingness to serve, leadership, and scholarship, members must put these traits to good use when they turn to the jobs of tutoring students and cleaning trophies. Seniors who wear the emblem of the National Honor Society are proud of their hard-won insignia. Speaker at the fall induction assembly was Dr. Anthony J. Hotz, former Lakewood faculty member. Traditional ceremonies are used for the inductions into the Society in spring, fall.

Coaches Ness and Scullion discuss new strategy with quarterback Bill Costello as they watch a play in progress.

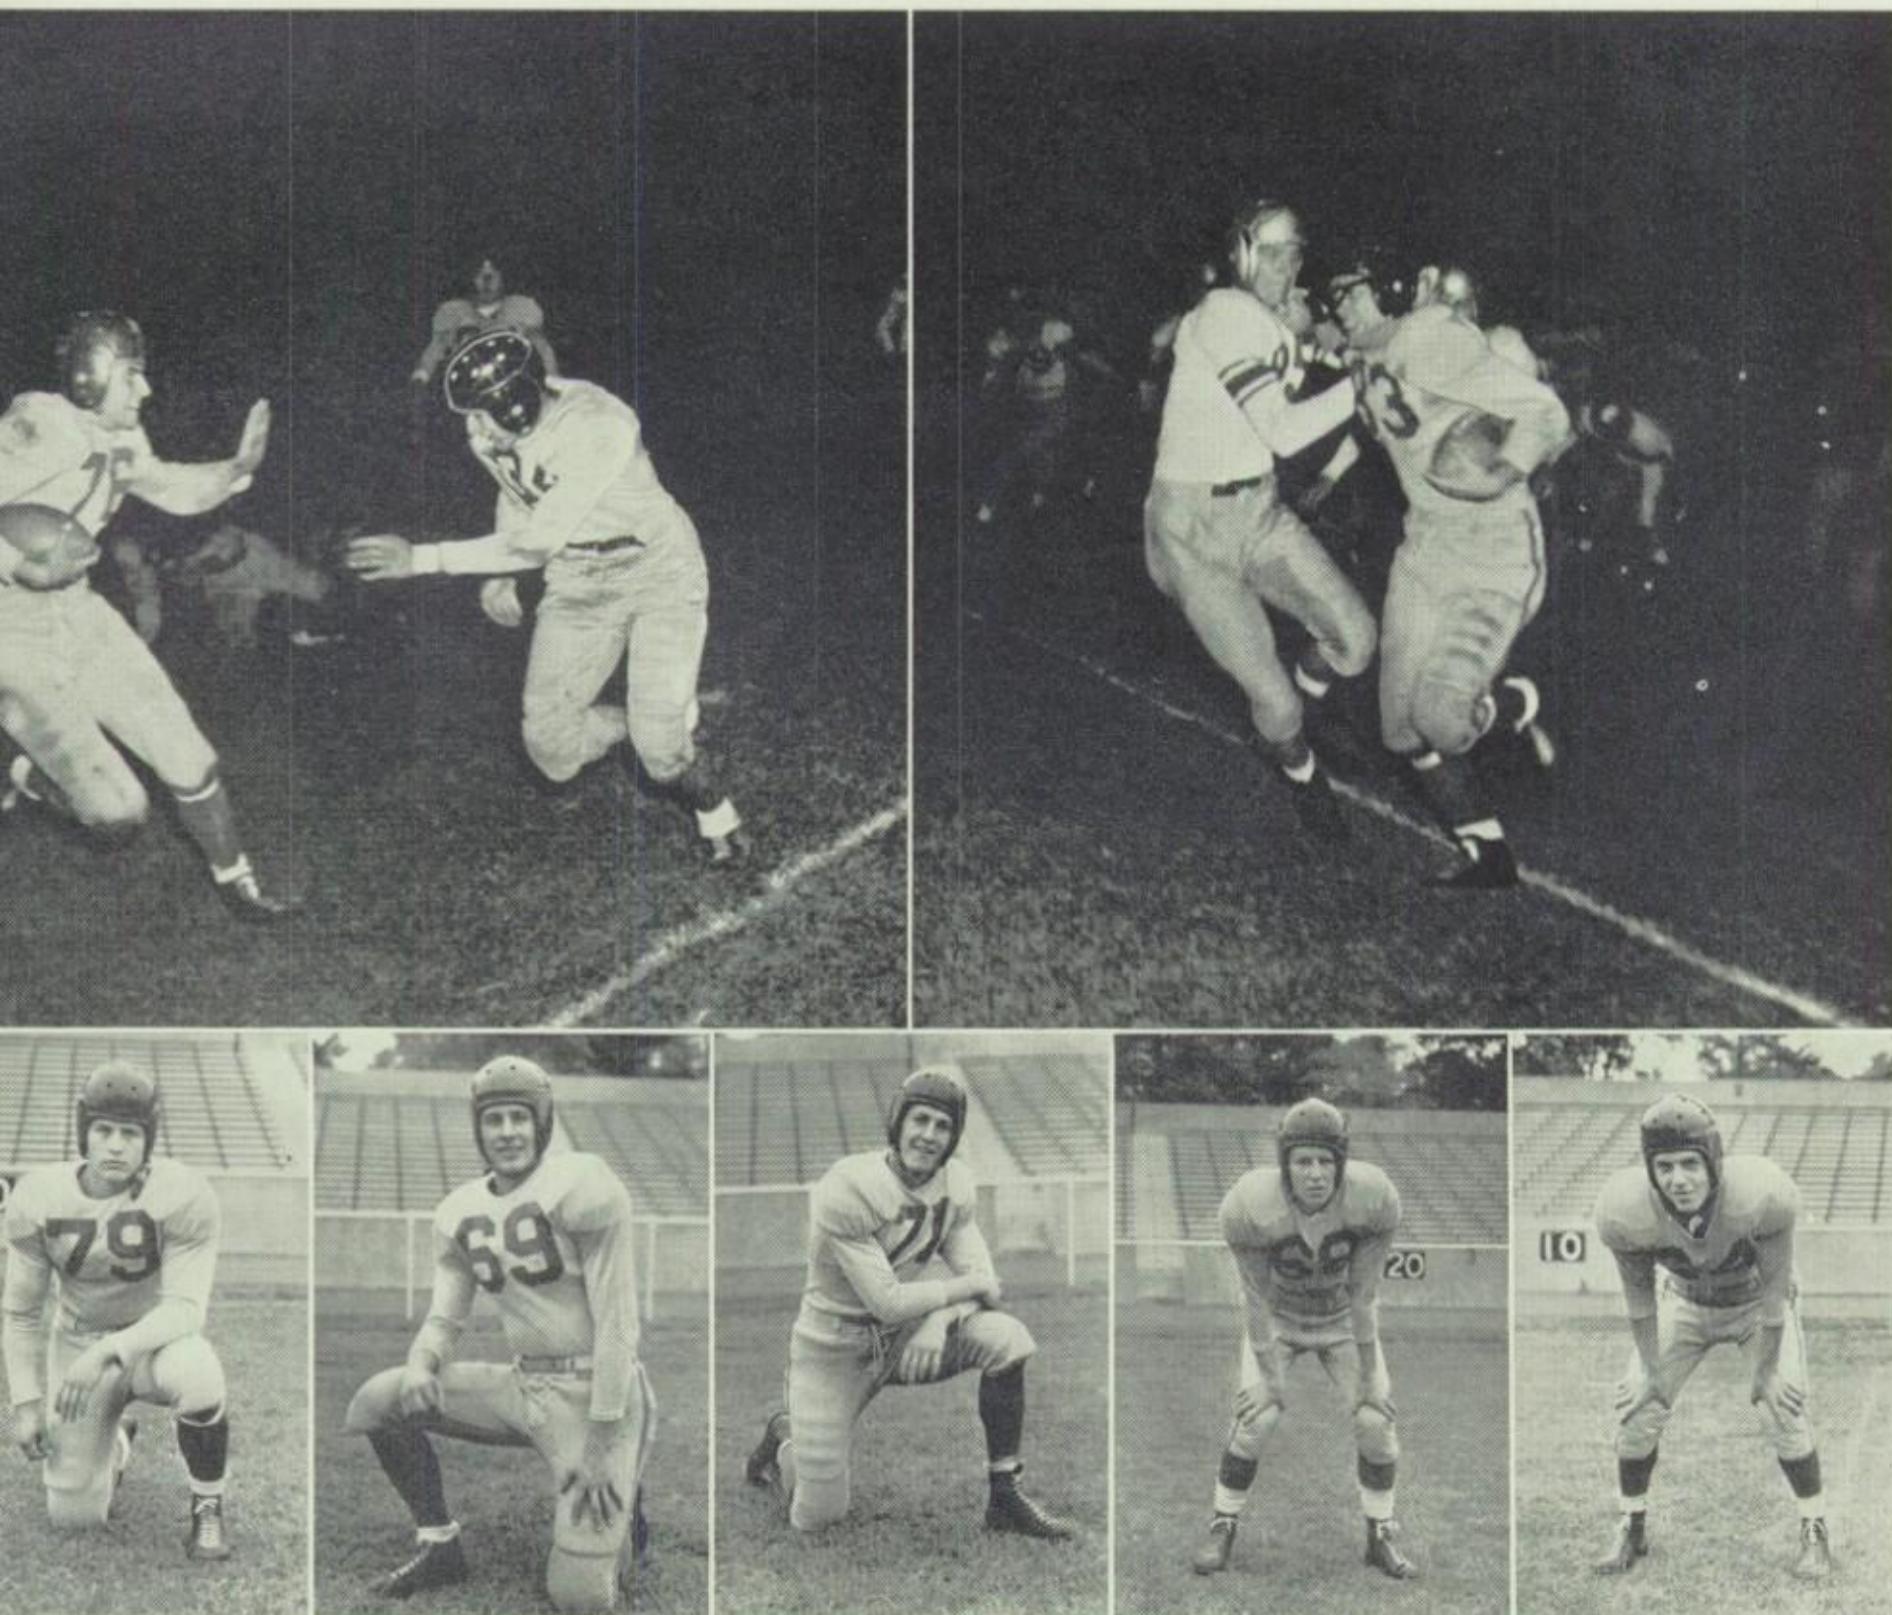

The Lakewood football squad opened the season with high hopes of taking the Lake Erie League Crown and of defeating Canton-McKinley. In the first six games of the Lakewood-Canton series Lakewood had been beaten by Canton. Three of these defeats marked the end of Lakewood's bid for an undefeated season. The 1950 hopes of the Rangers seemed to be justified when in the opening game, under Lakewood's newly installed lights, the Rangers trounced a supposedly strong Rhodes High eleven, 27-6.

Gridiron Sees Attendance Record Shattered

In the five following games Lakewood decisively defeated each opponent. Then in the seventh game Lakewood met Canton-McKinley on a swampy field. For the first half the Bulldogs were held on even terms, but in the second half Canton overwhelmed Lakewood 39-13. The following week Lakewood met the Shaker Heights eleven for the Lake Erie League title battle. The spirited Raider team turned what seemed to be an almost sure victory for Lakewood into the biggest scholastic upset of the season by defeating the Rangers 12-7 and capturing the L.E.L. title for the first time since 1937. The Rangers ended the season with a 13-6 defeat of their arch rival, West Tech.

Rhodes—In this “the spotlight game of the week,” the Rangers rolled to an easy victory 27-6. Gaping holes were made in the Rams’ line by Dutnell, Soltis and Wargo.

Parma—Although leading only 13-6 at half-time, the Rangers finished in a show of tremendous power and able reserves as they rolled to an easy victory over Parma, 58-6.

Cleveland Heights—From the opening whistle, the ending was never in doubt as Lakewood downed Heights, 53-6. Mike Pavlus ran 56 yards for the longest run of the game.

Elyria—Sparked by shifty Ron Maurer, who went over for three touchdowns, Lakewood trounced Elyria, 39-6. The line play of the Rangers in this game was outstanding.

Game to End '49 Season on Winning Note

Shaw—Highlight of this game was a perfect play in which Ron Maurer faked to Jack Woods on a punt and ran 85 yards before the Shaw players woke up to the fact that he had the ball. The final score was 35-13.

Collinwood—Before the largest crowd ever assembled in the Lakewood stadium the Rangers downed the leading contender for the Charity game, 27-20. In one of the hardest fought games of the season, both teams scored twice in the final four minutes.

Lorain—Scoring in every quarter, Lakewood used 39 players in hanging up another victory by defeating a weak Lorain team, 42 to 7. This was the first time a Lakewood team had beaten Lorain on the Ranger field.

Canton-McKinley—Braving a storm of snow and rain, an enthusiastic crowd watched the Rangers hold the mighty Bulldogs on even terms for the first half before losing 39-13 in the last game of the Canton series.

Shaker—In the game that decided the LEL championship, the biggest scholastic upset of the season, an underdog Shaker Heights eleven dropped Lakewood, 12 to 7. A penalty on the six-inch line with only seconds to play lost the game for the LHS Rangers.

West Tech—Climaxing the 1949 season by defeating West Tech 13-6, Lakewood scored twice in this Thanksgiving Day clash! The running of Maurer and Woods on the swampy field set up both Lakewood touchdowns.

Defeat of Shaker Is Highlight of JV Season

A tough season seemed to be in store for the Ranger JV football squad when at the first practice only nineteen boys reported. As the sessions progressed, however, the team roster grew to include about forty boys. In the opening game the JV's trounced Cuyahoga Falls 19-2. The confidence of the team was shaken in the second game when they were beaten by Cleveland Heights 21-6. In the hot and cold season that followed, Lakewood fought to a 26-26 tie with Shaw. The climax of the season was a 33-19 upset of Shaker Heights. The JV's ended the season with three wins, four losses, and one tie.

Harriers Take Third Successive Lake Erie Title

Harriers take their starting positions for one of the time trials which prepare them for meets later in the season.

For the first time, the 1949 Lakewood Cross Country team had regularly scheduled dual meets in addition to the regular Lake Erie League, district, and state meets. In this series, Lakewood defeated Rhodes and John Marshall but was decisively beaten by West High one week before the Lake Erie League race. As a result of a revised training schedule, Coach Norman R. Brown's harriers were able to win their third successive L.E.L. crown. After finishing fourth in the district meet at Ridgewood Country Club, the harriers closed the season with a ninth place in the state meet, held November 5.

Tennis Squad Ties for Second in LEL Race

Rebounding sharply after dropping every match in a 5-0 thrashing by Shaker Heights, eventual L.E.L. champion, the Lakewood tennis squad turned the tables on Elyria and Lorain, reeling off consecutive 5-0 wins. Shaw's Cardinals invaded the Lakewood courts for the final match of the season with second place at stake. The Black and Red pulled a 3-2 win out of the fire to tie the Rangers for second place in the final standings. Led by John Carr, captain and first singles man, the netters captured 12 matches while losing 8. Hopes for '51 are high with four lettermen returning.

John Carr, first singles this year, "puts the ball away" for another point with a stinging cross-court backhand.

After downing John Marshall 61 to 40, Lakewood was nosed out in the second round of the district tournament by St. Ignatius. The Rangers, leading by eight points in the early stages of the game and trailing by only two points at the half, lost steam as the second half progressed and wound up on the short end of a 55 to 41 score. Although lettermen Bill Costello, Dick Milligan, Jack Woods, and Lou Lambros are graduating, the Rangers have the nucleus of a fine team in the season of '50-'51 with the return of first stringer Conrad Olson, letterman John Kornick and this year's capable replacements of Bill Fordyce, Ian Ulen, and Les Slaman. Bill Costello, who was chosen for the All Lake Erie League team, was high scorer for the Rangers this season with 153 points. Lakewood finished third in the LEL, defeating every team except Shaw Cardinals at least once.

J V Cagers Gain Valuable Experience

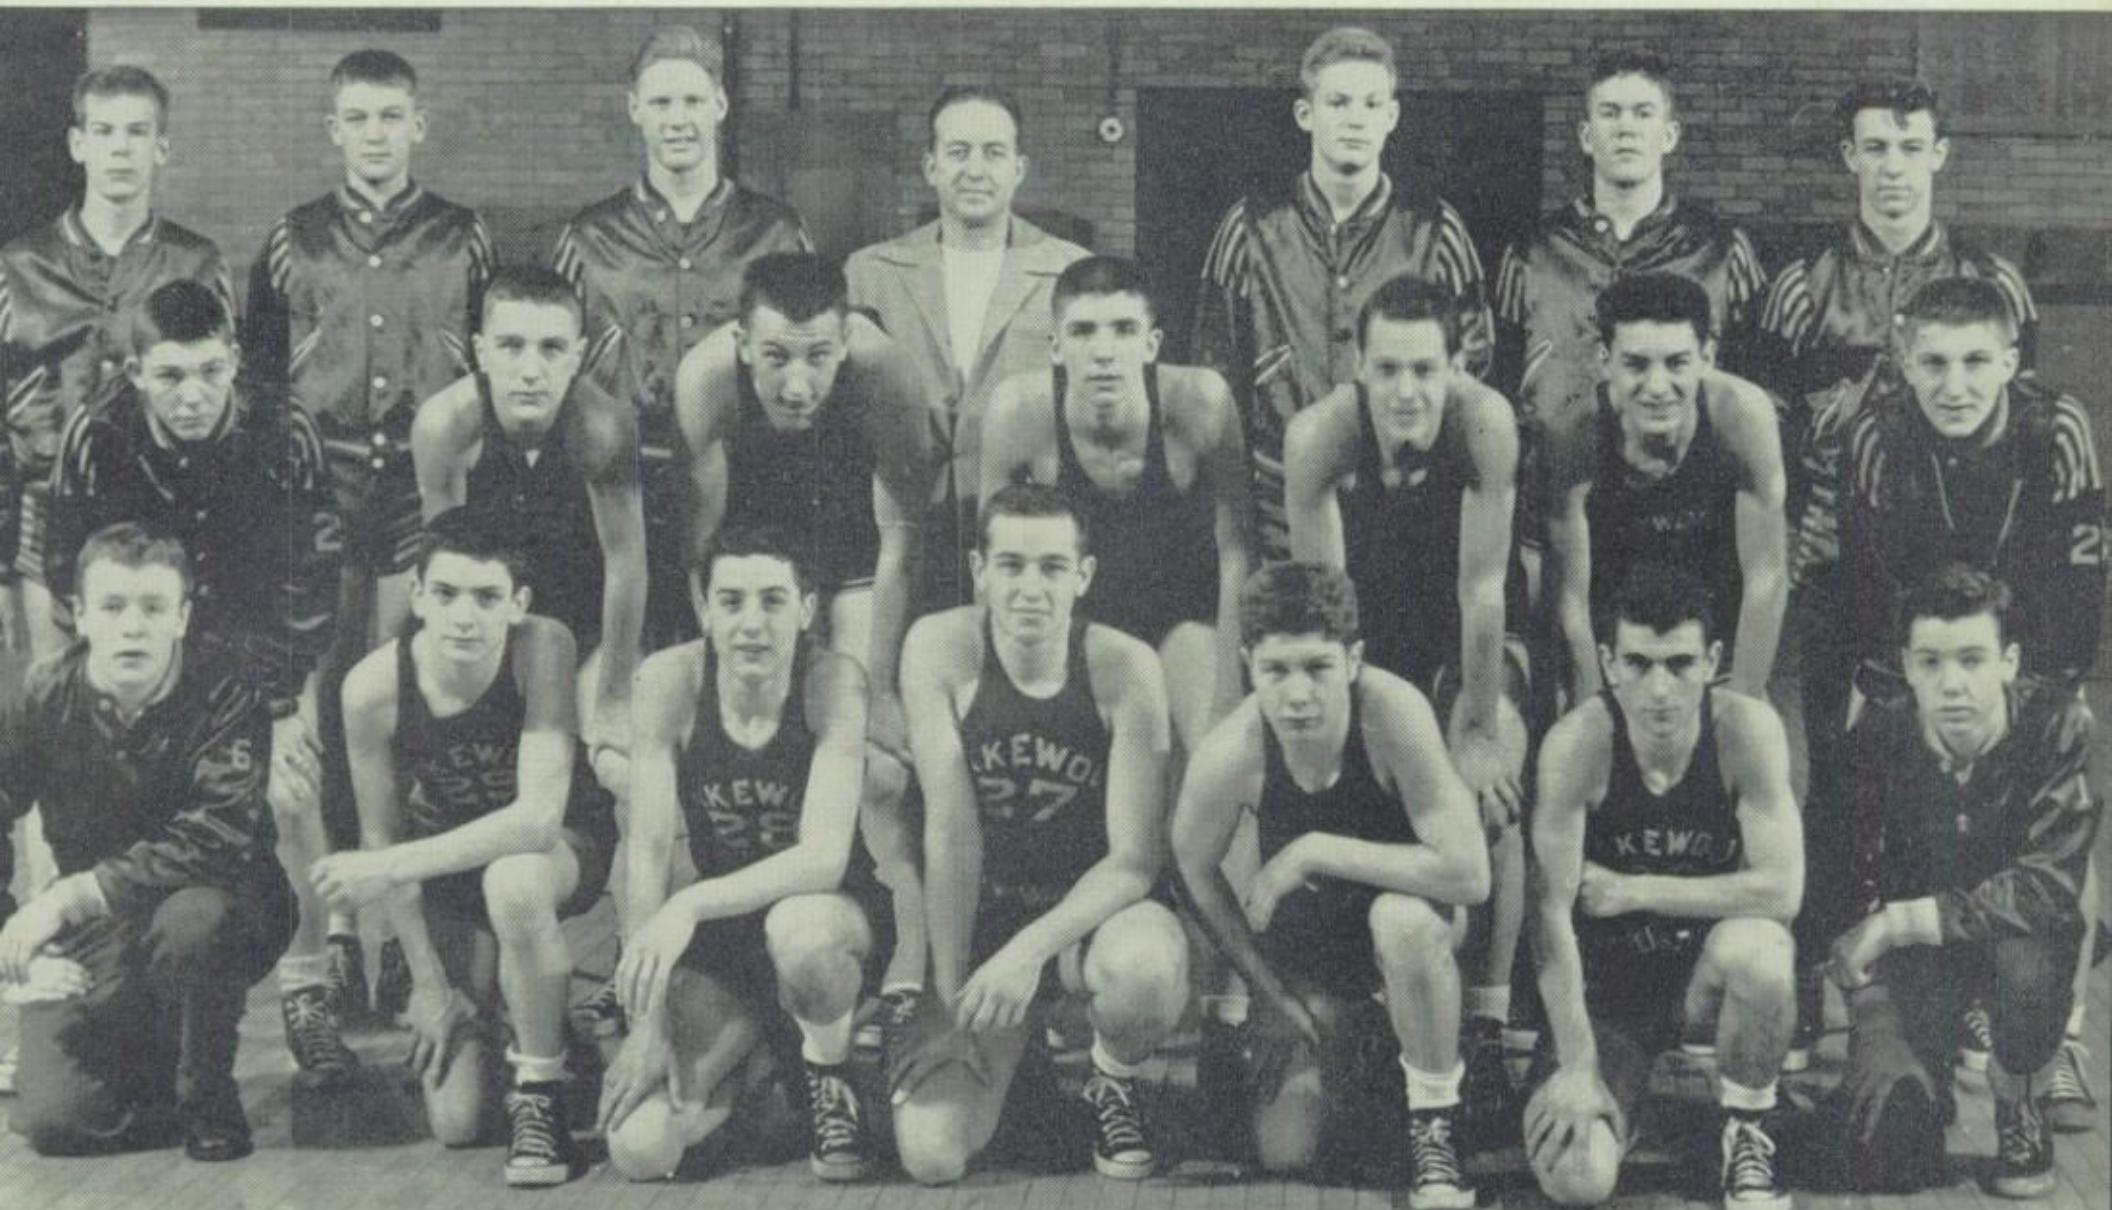

The JV basketball team, whatever its season record may show, annually comes up with several talented performers to provide new blood for the varsity squad. The 1949-1950 campaign was no exception. Although the final slate shows six wins against nine losses, the record of the last two-thirds of the season gives a truer picture of the team's ability, for Coach Donald Harwood's JV's came back after losing their first four games to win six of the eleven remaining contests. The last game of the season, a tight 29 to 27 victory, gave them their fourth decision in ten contests with other LEL JV squads.

Under the co-captaincy of Ed Lesko and Harry Newell, Lakewood's swimmers took fifth place in the state meet in which 26 teams competed. After the city meet at Fenn pool, Lakewood and Cleveland Heights reigned as co-champs. During the year eight records were broken. Ed Lesko smashed six 100-yard breaststroke records besides winning the Feldner award with $9\frac{3}{4}$ points. Harry Newell lowered the time in the 150-yard individual medley while Dick Clabault, Ed Lesko, and Bill Brookes collaborated to set a new Cleveland Heights High School pool record in the 180-yard medley relay.

Ken Uhle
Catcher

Lakewood's baseball team topped off the 1949 season by taking second place in the state finals at Columbus. Sparked by the power hitting of Chet Grob, Coach Harwood's nine presented a formidable threat to any opposition. The mound duties were divided among Kenny Wilson, Bill Toole, and Chet Grob, with Wilson turning in two one-hitters and three two-hit games. Outfield chores were handled by Dick Nosky, Ed Person and Chet Grob. Infield responsibilities were taken care of by Bob Burson, Bill Costello, Bob Yurick, and Bud Barrere, while Ken Uhle took care of most of the catching.

Ranger Thinclads Take 20th Lake Erie Title

After a disappointing performance in the 1949 arena meet, the Rangers opened their series of outdoor meets with high hopes of redeeming themselves. These hopes were realized when the thinclads won every dual meet except the opener with Rhodes. The season was highlighted by the Rangers' victory in the Lake Erie League race in which they scored 72 points to second place Heights' 45½. This season, eighteen returning lettermen are seeking Lakewood's twentieth LEL title.

Entire 1949 Golf Team Back for '50 Season

The prospect of seeing new faces on the varsity golf quartet this spring was not likely at CINEMA press time. Dick Milligan, Larry Hagerson, Paul Steigerwald, and Jules Gardner, '49 regulars, are again eligible to compete. So are a group of ambitious Jay Vees who would like nothing better than to win a varsity berth for themselves. Coach Cletis F. Johnson is optimistic about the team's chances in 1950, and on the basis of the boys' added experience, he anticipates a winning season. Opposition was tough last year and the 1949 Rangers finished third in the LEL. Milligan and Hagerson accumulated enough points to win major letters, the first awarded to golfers.

"L" Club

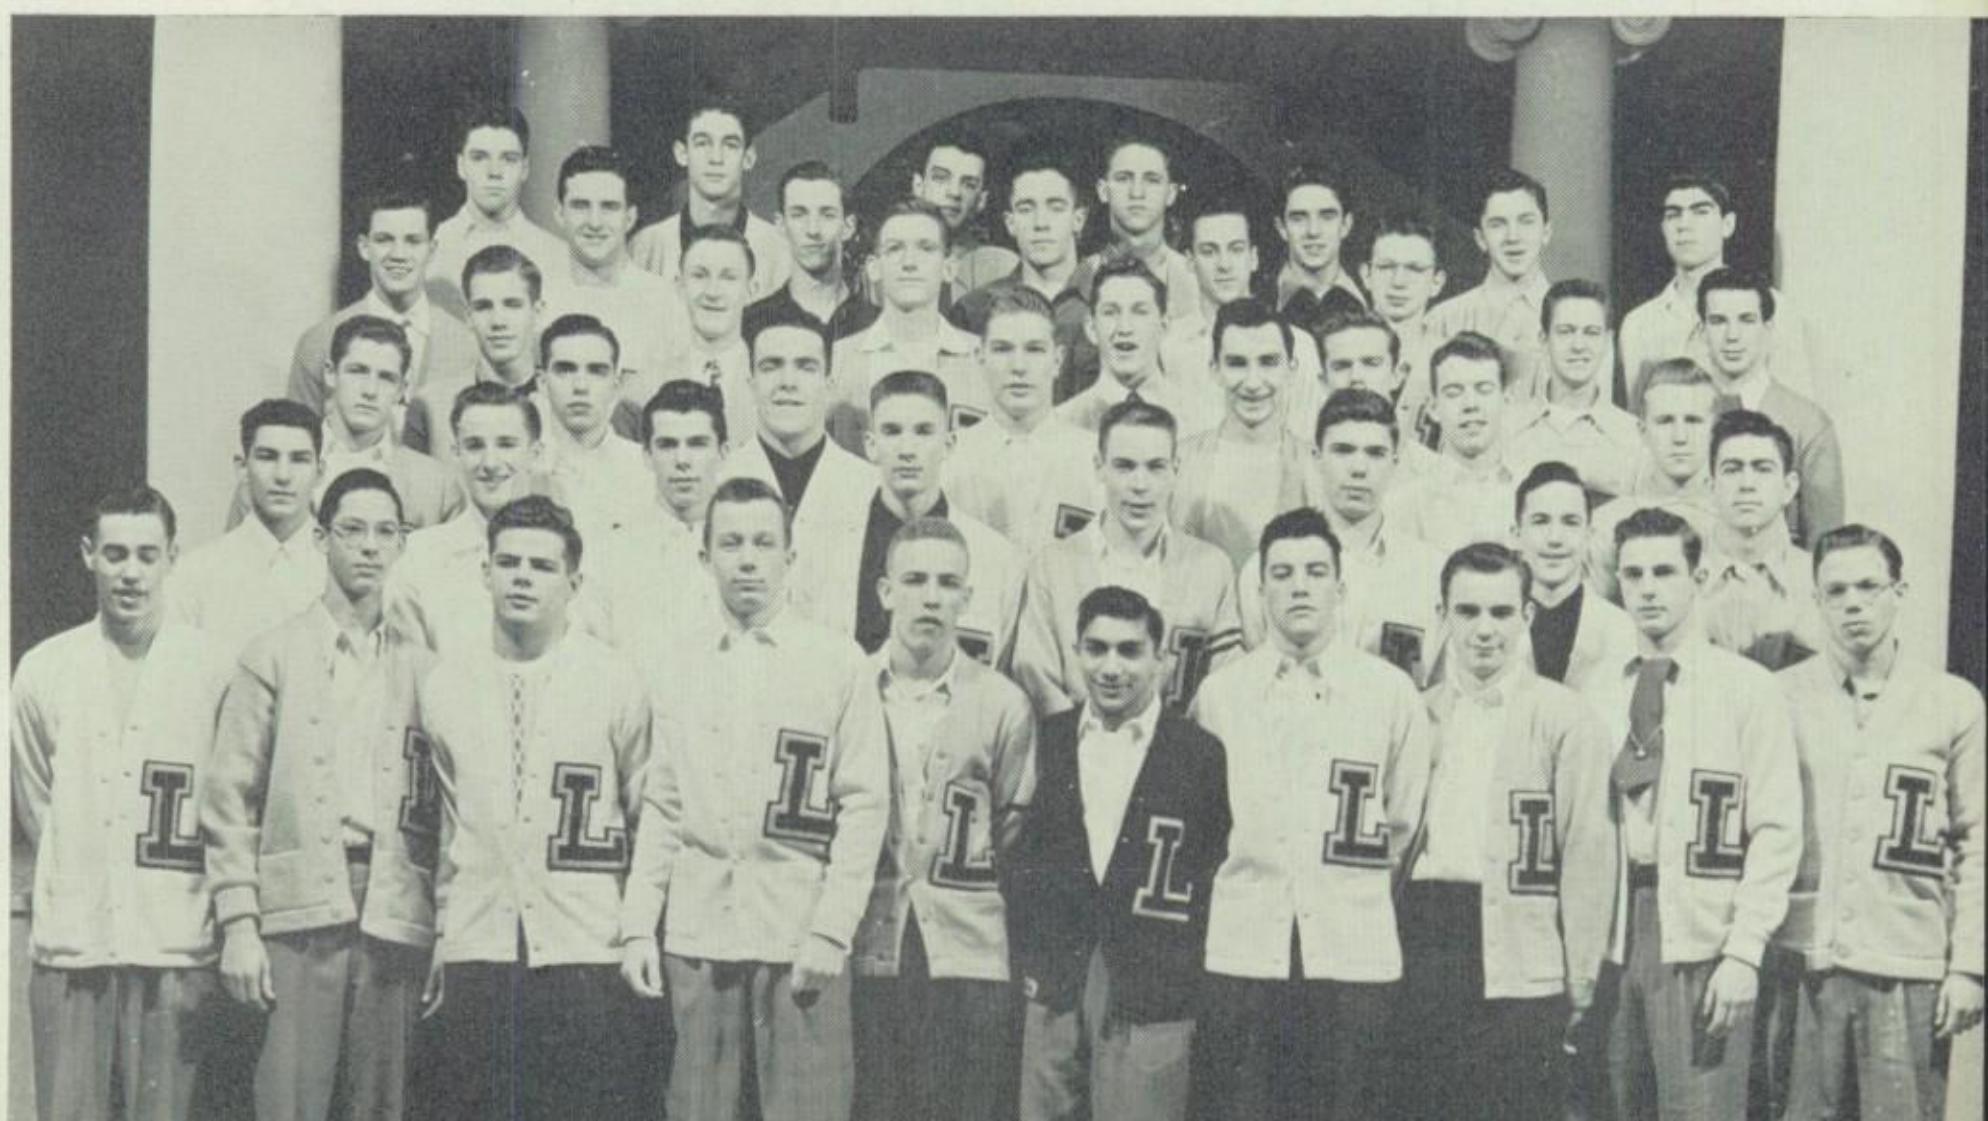

Team captains for the 1949-50 season, Woods, Lesko, Cook, Essi, Carr admire the 1949 state baseball runner-up trophy held by Costello.

"L" Club members hear no speakers, pay no dues, have no programs, and hold no meetings except the annual gathering for their C.nema photograph; yet a coat sweater with a gleaming letter is an important goal for most Lakewood boys. The club is an honorary organization of boys who have earned athletic "L's" for participation in one of Lakewood's nine sports. The 1949 team captains were as follows: baseball, Chet Grob; track, Jim Duffy; tennis, John Carr; cross country, Bruce Cook; football, Jack Woods and Bob DeRose; swimming, Ed Lesko and Harry Newell; wrestling, Vern Essi.

Girls' Insignia

Receiving an "L" is an honor the athletic-minded girls of Lakewood High long for. The letter is awarded on a point system for participation in after-school sports offered by the Girls' Physical Education Department. 900 points are required for the "L," but the intramural shield, which is the more frequently received award, is given to a girl who has earned only 200 points. Volley ball, baseball, basketball, ping pong, badminton, and modern dance are some of the activities which help the girls to earn insignia.

D. Parobek, G. Chapman, N. Poltorak, B. Weir, J. Falkner, N. Blake, L. Doellman, E. Utley, H. Faxon, and J. Repass earned girls' "L's" this year in athletic competition.

For her work in designing and making costumes for the show, including the amusing red devil costumes for "Deviltry," Saundra Williams was made the first honorary member of the Tankateers Club. Pot-lucks and intramural swimming meets filled the rest of the calendar and kept the Tankateers busy under the leadership of Miss De-Petro, faculty adviser, Marilyn Smith, president, Marilyn Harshbarger, vice-president.

On the first and fourth Wednesdays of each month, Boot and Bridle Club members pile into battered station wagons and go to Parker's Ranch, where they saddle up and set out for a joyous, hour-long ride on their favorite mounts. On the alternate Wednesdays, Miss Hiserodt gives instructions on handling a bridle and bit and demonstrates the technique used in caring for equipment. Among the indoor activities were a series of movies on training horses and a lecture on drawing horses by Mrs. Parker. A late ride, followed by a barbecue at Parker's Ranch, was one of the chief social gatherings of the year for these equestriennes. Autumn colors, spring breezes and blowing snow provide settings for the exhilarating jaunts of Boot and Bridle members over the trails of the Valley.

Who will win? Yale or Harvard? This question is uppermost in the minds of LHS students the week of the annual Yale-Harvard basketball game, when ardent rooters wear the emblem of their favorite team. To be a player on either team is the goal of any girl interested in athletics. One of a girl's greatest joys is finding her name written in bold letters on the list of players. The participants spend long hours after school practicing guarding, shooting baskets, and most important of all, planning trick plays and signals. On the day of the 1949 game Harvard's traditional red and white, and Yale's blue and white, shifted rapidly over the floor as the play progressed. When the game ended the girls on the Yale team were tired, happy, and victorious. For the success of the game not only the skillful teams but also the many who worked behind the scenes deserve recognition—the publicity committee put up posters and the ticket committee kept a strict record of the ticket sales and money to assure a large enthusiastic crowd. This event ended with a dinner for all the participants and others who assisted them in its success.

Modern Dance Stresses Creative Expression

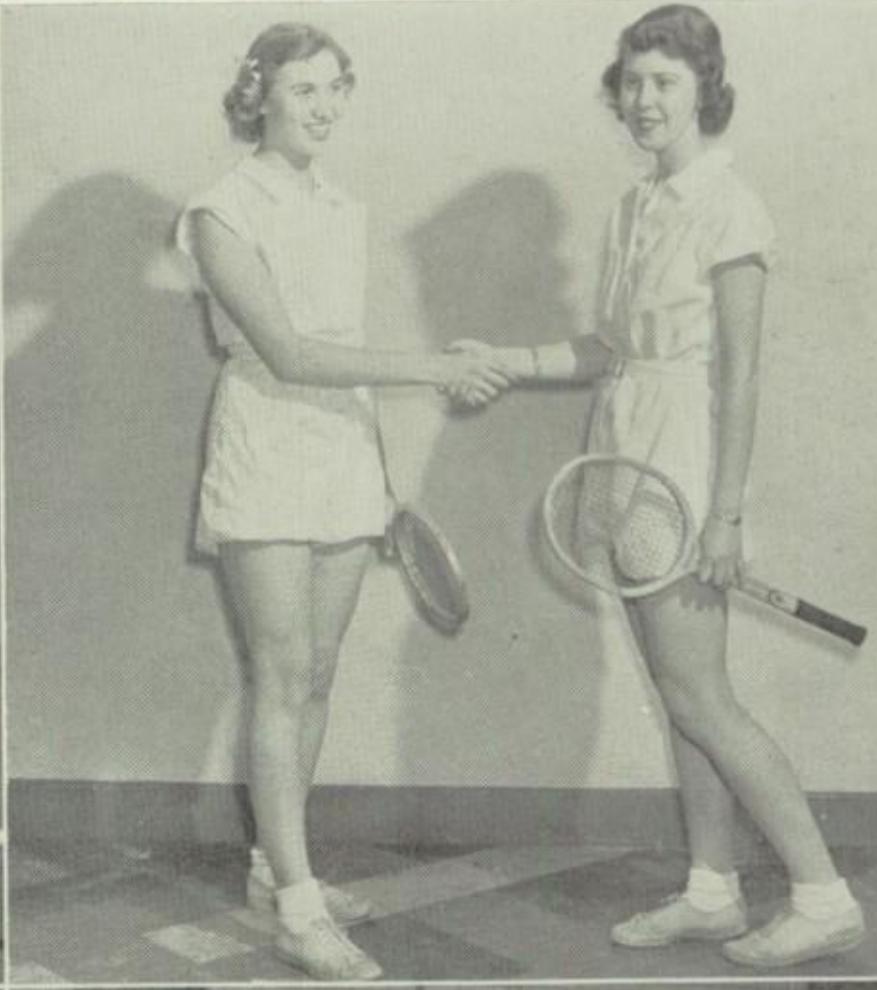

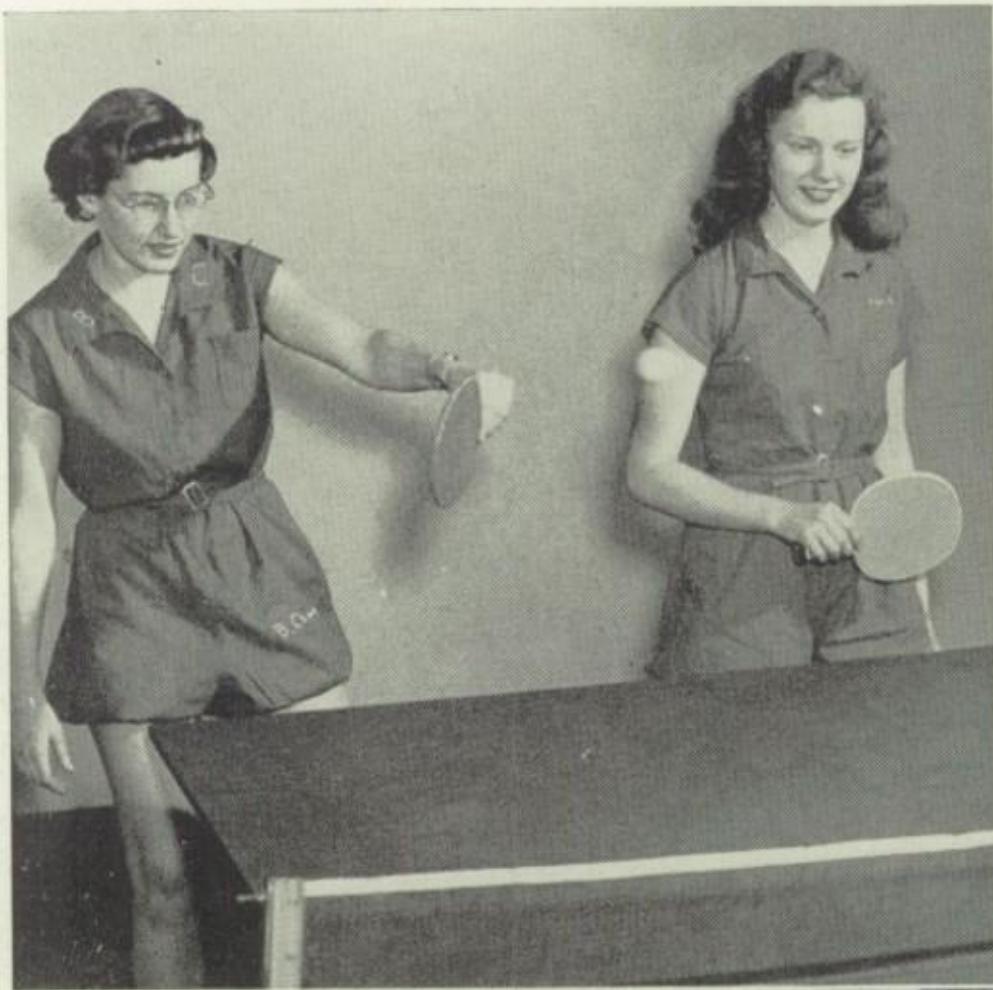

Light as air, Phyllis Hoenig, Barbara Zuris, and Terry Zimmerman in the conventional leotards do a graceful leap characteristic of modern dance.

"Oh please—no more." "My back aches and I can't bend my arms," are familiar phrases heard every Wednesday afternoon in the girls' gym. Girls interested in modern dance practice at this time under the direction of Miss Phyllis DePetro. A part in one of the two recitals presented was the goal of many girls, while exercise and poise were gained by the rest. "The Waltz of the Flowers" was interpreted with a choral background.

Organized to further student participation in school government, Lakewood High Student Council is composed of representatives elected by each homeroom and officers and members-at-large elected by the student body on a ward system similar to the method used in public elections. Recreation, law, public welfare are some of the committees handling the jobs essential to smooth operation of Council plans.

Plans for the Adoption of a Student Court

Earning money for school improvements is one of the Council's activities. This year a magazine subscription drive which replaced the paper sale of former years netted over $2,000. Tax stamp refunds were used to buy a tarpaulin for the football field. Under consideration are proposals to purchase a P.A. system for the new building and a scoreboard clock. In order to provide funds for the new band uniforms, the Student Council sponsored a student tag day.

Workshops sponsored by the Student Council were organized to debate the advantages and disadvantages of the most important proposal before the Council this year—the adoption of a Student Commission. These workshops brought together varied opinions for the Student Commission which was planned to give students more opportunity for self-government. The proposal was considered important enough to be put before the entire student body for a vote.

Staff Members Record Activities of the Year

Photographers H. Hunter, J. Butler, A. Bendo, and G. McFerren compare notes on equipment; N. Limburg and J. Dombey work over copy while S. Gribben checks the circulation records with Mr. Farquhar, business adviser; A. Hausman draws boards for layouts, and J. Gund, T. Nes- terenko, C. Sliwinski, B. Brauer work on engraving copy.

Planning and cropping pictures, writing captions and copy to fit, designing layouts, carrying equipment, reading proof, typing and pasting the dummy—these are a few of the many tasks which cause the new members of the staff to exclaim, "I had no idea that there are so many things to be done in getting out the CINEMA!" Lots of work and lots of fun make up a yearbook.

Looking at Lakewood High with a theme-hunting eye, the members of the 1950 CINEMA staff chose a parade to show the events, the traditions, the activities that make up a year of life at Lakewood High School. With the theme chosen the work began: homeroom pictures, football actions, senior panels, engraving deadlines, press time—and Honor Day, the 1950 CINEMA is out.

Pat Gage and Betty Chappell attended the NSPA convention in Chicago during Thanksgiving vacation and brought back ideas for the 1950 CINEMA. Dave Grevstad and members of the staff assisted in preparing illustrative materials for the discussion group led by Miss McFadden. Working hard to meet last year's All-American record, members of the staff led by Lynden Gillis, editor-in-chief; Beverle Ellms and Nancy Dubrawsky, assistant editors; Dick Cadot, advertising manager; Miss McFadden, editorial adviser; Harriet Faxon, circulation manager; and Mr. Farquhar, business adviser, have recorded the parade of life at Lakewood High School.

Weekly Editions of The Lakewood High Times

Marching along in Lakewood's parade of activities is the Lakewood High TIMES, important for its news of school events and personalities. Giving voice to student opinion and publicizing student projects are large-scale jobs the TIMES fulfills through the medium of editorials. Under the advisory eye of Mr. Seymour A. Slater, articles are written and proof read, and pages laid out for each weekly issue. While Donna Schwartz's column tells of the unlikely happenings at Lakewood High, editorials and news stories tell of the likely ones. Editing stories, rewriting copy, and reporting high school sports gives staff members opportunity to discover both the fun and the difficulties of newspaper work. The drudgery and frustrations of reading galley and making page layouts fit were forgotten by these ambitious journalists when the Lakewood High TIMES received its tenth All-American award in sixteen years.

Their Theme, "I Dare You," Guides Friendship

I dare you! I dare you to stand tall, to think tall, to smile tall, to live tall. This was the challenging theme of the Friendship Club this year. To help the more than three hundred Friendship girls achieve their goal more easily, the chapters with the help of the main cabinet planned the year's programs around the six points of balanced living as outlined by the Y.W.C.A.—worship, fellowship, service, arts, vocations, and, of course, social activities.

Main cabinet for the first semester included S. Chapek, 12B president; L. Doellman, attendance vice-president; R. Halberg, ceremonial vice-president; J. Gund, president; L.

An all-girl assembly introduced the theme and suggested the activities programs which ensued. The World Fellowship fund swelled to $95 as girls answered the question, "How big is your waist?" and forfeited a penny an inch. "Get your ice cream and hot dogs here!" was the cry of the Friendship girls at the football games last fall. Money earned from this project was combined with that of Hi-Y to bring Dr. Warmingham for a three-day conference in March.

Taking Dad out is the rare privilege that many girls enjoyed when they escorted their fathers to the Dad-Daughter Dessert and Senior Farewell in January. Hi-Y Club Offers Interesting Programs, Date

Boys who attended Hi-Y camps during the summer obtained valuable ideas for their Hi-Y chapters.

Senior chapter officers John Carr and Bill Mast introduce Hi-Y ideals and objectives to new members in induction ceremony at Lakewood Methodist.

Interesting speakers and serious discussions of religious and social problems provide stimulating programs for the meetings of the nine Lakewood Hi-Y chapters. Each chapter holds its own meetings every two weeks at the Lakewood Y House. Under the leadership of Mr. Oscar Fox and Mr. Charles Smith, Y.M.C.A. secretaries, and the faculty advisers, chapters plan their own programs, and athletic and social activities.

Devotional Chairmen Jack Kemp, Jim Mathiott, Gardner Weeks, Lyman Newell, Chuck Stocking, Dick Milligan, Jack McNerney plan programs.

Nights, Serious Discussions to Lakewood Boys

Dinner meetings and social events are popular with all chapters while seniors have made a dinner-date meeting an annual event at which the officers' dates preside. Among the various speakers obtained by the nine chapter program chairmen were Mr. Bersons, a displaced person from Latvia, and Mr. Eastman, a native Liberian now studying at Baldwin-Wallace. Ministers, sports figures, and school faculty members discuss many topics of interest to the boys. Interchapter challenges resulting in baseball, basketball, and ping-pong tournaments accent the recreational side of Hi-Y. Scrap metal drives and booths at all-school parties receive the wholehearted support of the members as money-raising projects for Y.M.C.A. World Service. The traditional Hi-Y-Friendship Dance makes April a red-letter month for members of Hi-Y chapters.

Chapter presidents enjoy relaxing with current magazines after exchanging suggestions for improving programs:

"Would you get me the Newsweek of April 10, 1938?" is a familiar request to the Library Staff members who assist Miss Findley by securing stored reference material and with other duties such as pasting magazine covers, filing cards, and stamping books. This service gives a helpful background to girls hoping to become future librarians.

Ushers

L. H. S.'s "receiving committee," who pilot the crowds at many school functions, had a thrill last fall when Mrs. Stewart called upon them to usher at a concert being directed by Fred Waring's associate director. In the spring semester the older ushers assisted at the Metropolitan Operas. The club year closed with the annual potluck.

Varied Tasks Performed by P. A. Staff Boys

Right: Wallenfels, Butler, and Knapp operate the broadcasting equipment while H. Hunter reads announcement

"Your attention please." To most students this is just another announcement, but not to the boys on the P.A. Staff, who visualize the many periods spent in 114 working with the P.A. equipment. The purpose of the staff is to learn about the various electrical devices and to apply this knowledge by executing many tasks around school. The boys arrange the portable amplifier used at swimming, wrestling, and basketball matches. Recordings of radio programs such as "Town Meeting" are rebroadcasted to classrooms. Short wave programs from South America and Europe are recorded for Spanish, French, and German classes.

Since the P.A. System has had few improvements in the past, this year's reconditioning of the equipment has resulted in an increased enthusiasm of the boys for their work. The sophomores and juniors on the staff will be eagerly watching the Student Council project of rebuilding the P.A. set-up, which will go into effect in the near future. Mr. Glenn T. Boruff is the adviser of P.A., which is the only club at Lakewood with three vice-presidents. Bill Wallenfels, Jim Butler, and Dick Knapp are respectively in charge of the tape recorder, portable equipment, and 114 console. Hays Hunter is the president of the P.A. Staff this year.

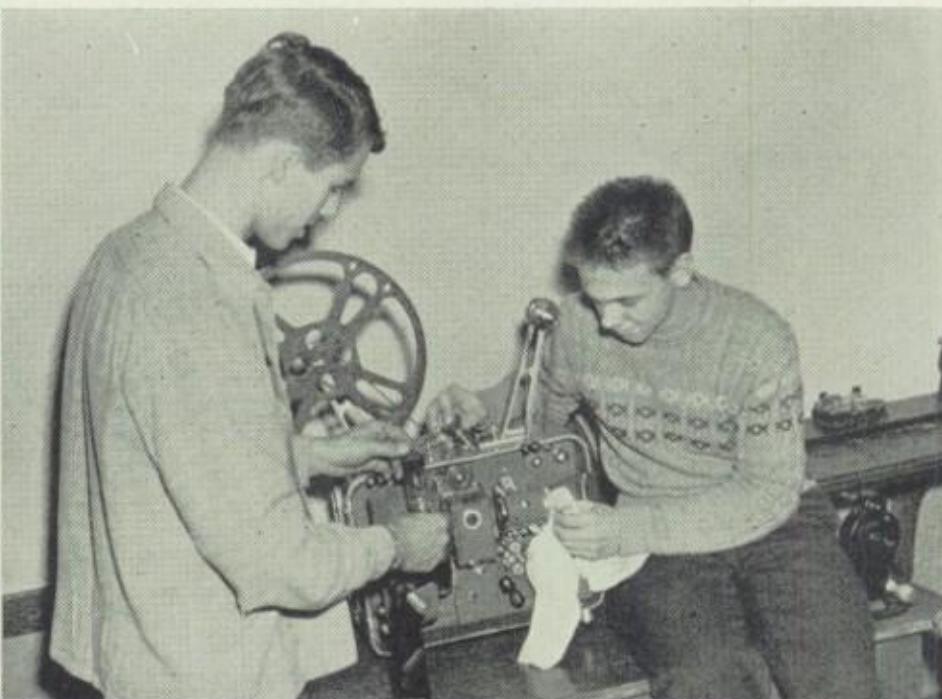

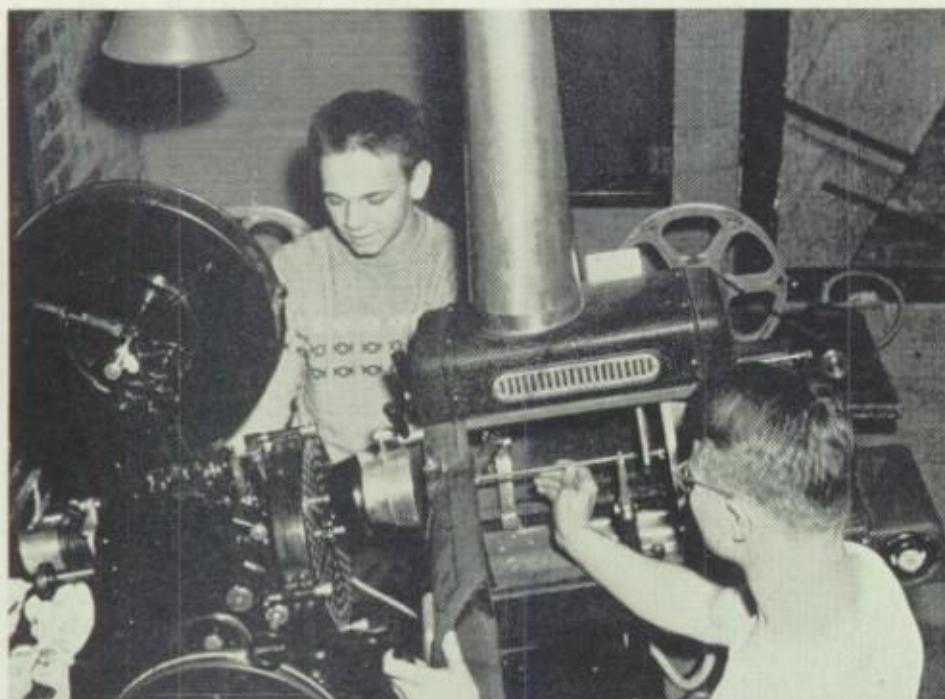

Projectionists Assist With Visual Education

A typical day for the projection staff begins with the arrival of two members before school to thread up, adjust, and clean the noon movie projector. During each of the nine periods in the day, a member is assigned to Room 126 to show the visual education films. Besides running the movies, the boys keep the projectors in A-1 condition by constant attention. Members are eligible for minor "L's" after serving for three semesters and after being a senior member for at least one semester. Before being given the responsibility for operating the projectors, apprentices are given a thorough training in handling the machines by the senior staff members. Because the equipment is valuable and many of the films difficult or impossible to replace, the projectionists must be dependable and responsible. The members work in cooperation with Mr. Jessup.

Orchestra Wins Superior Rating

B. Uebel, R. Jakwerth, P. Neff, D. Fessenmeyer, D. Miller, F. Shannon, C. Sales, J. Woods, J. McCann, E. Bringman and B. Hose enjoy tuning up.

The goal of every member of the orchestra was reached last year when, under Mr. Jewell's direction, Lakewood High's orchestra won superior rating at Kent District Contest and Ohio Wesleyan State Contest. Dressed in their best formals and suits, the orchestra presented both a spring and a fall concert and officiated at Commencement and Baccalaureate. A social event was the spring concert sponsored with the band.

The boys and girls of Lakewood High School who sincerely enjoy singing join one of the four glee clubs. No requirements are needed to sing in the glee clubs, just the love of music and singing. Pupils look forward to their music period, not only for singing, but for fun and relaxation. The size and number of the glee clubs testify to their popularity at Lakewood High. For many of Lakewood High School students, the glee club is the gateway to the Junior and Senior A Cappella Choirs in the junior and senior year.

Pleasure and Preparation for Spring Festival

The Spring Festival is probably the highlight of the year for the choirs and the glee clubs. Each year in May, the choirs of Lakewood High School combine their talents in a program of choral music. The glee clubs presented this year, under the direction of Mr.

T. R. Evans and Mr. J. C. McCollum, "The Curtains of Night," an old cowboy folk song, "We Thank Thee, Lord," by Bortniansky, and "God of Our Fathers" as arranged by Simeone. The Spring Festival was held May 5, in the Lakewood High School auditorium.

Staff Members Create Settings for Plays

The sound of hammer hitting nail, the scraping of chairs and tables are familiar sounds to members of Stage Staff. The stage crew, under the direction of Mr. Alfred G. Nenneman, spends many hours building new and revamping old stage properties. Their duties also include creating sound effects and proper lighting effects for performances in the auditorium. At the end of three semesters as a stage hand a member is eligible for a letter. After completing six semesters, he receives a Stage Staff pin for his services.

Barnstormers Learn Fine Points of Theater

Last minute nerves, cast jokes, waiting for cues, the smell of grease paint are a part of the ever-new experience of acting. The stage-struck persons of LHS, who love the glitter and excitement of the theater, are usually found in Barnstormers. Membership is gained by earning points through appearing in skits and helping on various committees. Under the skillful direction of Mr. Calvin W. White, "Papa is All," this year's annual fall presentation, added to the Barnstormers' reputation for fine performances. When the club wasn't busy with rehearsals and all the other preparation that goes into producing a play, they enjoyed meetings where make-up and stage setting demonstrations were presented by Mr. Albert Neneman and other programs consisting of monologues, radio plays, and skits presented by the club members. This year these members of Barnstormers became members of National Thespian, honor society for outstanding work in high school dramatics: Beverle Ellms, Julie Sajo, Dave Babin, Larry Bloom, Harry Howarth, Dick Mansir, Dick Overmeyer, and Jack Swanson.

"Remember the hollow globe" is a familiar direction to Miss Moore's speech classes, who make up the membership of Speakers' Club and who find entertainment in taking part in the meetings or in listening to the programs presented by others. A hilarious demonstration speech, "A Girl Getting Ready for Bed," revealed the secrets of pin curls, cold cream, and other details of the nightly feminine ritual of beauty. At another meeting, a heated debate on socialized medicine created tension and excitement in the listeners as pro and con arguments were forcefully expressed. Through speeches, debates, and discussions, talkative Lakewoodites find opportunity to practice the principles of speaking and express their views in an interesting, communicative manner.

A world of discontent, poverty and conflict between differing political views is the type of world Hi-Forum members studied this year in their discussions and through talks given by prominent speakers. Dr. Wayne Shuttee, who delivered one of these addresses, expressed the need for unity in the world in order to maintain peace. The club follows closely the activities of the Junior Council on World Affairs. Several members attended a program presented by this group at the Carter Hotel in which President Truman's Point Four Policy was outlined. Later, Hi-Forum demonstrated court procedure in an amusing mock trial. The club members find all these activities provide entertainment as well as a better understanding of world affairs.

From the flag-ornamented stage, Dennis Izold entertained Fiesta guests with a Spanish number on his accordion.

Spanish Club

The Community Center was the scene of the Spanish Club's traditional Christmas party, the Spanish Fiesta. A modern version of the Mexican Hat Dance, a magic show, a tap dance, a barbershop quartet, singing in Spanish, various musical solos, and the breaking of the pinata constituted the floor show. Mr. Robert Stofer's travelogue, "That Trip to Panama," started the programs of the year, which also included discussions of the lives of several Mexican composers and examples of their music, and a conference with Dr. Amner of Kent State University on "Your College Spanish," with members.

At the annual Christmas Fiesta members of the Spanish Club and guests enjoyed dancing, watching a floor show.

German Club Visits German Newspaper

"Der Deutsche Verein" began the school year with a field trip to the "Waechter und Anzeiger," a German newspaper printed in Cleveland. A news item listing the names of the group was printed in the edition going to Frankfurt, Germany, and several letters have been received from German students. Miss Mary Coates, sponsor, was presented with a first edition paper nearly one hundred years old, which the club later had framed. In the spring semester a "Fastnacht Abend" carnival, traditionally the last party before Lent, was held and included a pot-luck supper, games, dancing for members.

German Club officers D. Jones, J. Hunt, P. Fahey, T. Beck read the first issue of the only German paper in Cleveland.

Latin Club Holds Mock Trial of Caesar

"Your Honor, I object," came from Room 316 one Thursday evening after school. No, it wasn't a Hi-Forum meeting but Latin Club recreating the trial of Julius Caesar. Kay Huxtable represented Julius Caesar and Tracy Herrick supported the Roman Government. Sally Price played Caesar, whom they declared innocent after the lawyers had finished their cross examination. At another meeting of S. P. Q. R.—Senatus Populisque Romanus or in English, the Senate and the Roman People—the members viewed a cine-colored movie of Vatican City. A new constitution was written in the fall by a committee and went into effect at the beginning of the spring semester. S. P. Q. R.'s Christmas social event was a potluck held at Judy Gault's home. In the spring during the annual Latin Week, of which one day is always the Ides of March, Latin Club had tea and entertainment which consisted of talks by Miss Lucy Helen Kimball, Dean of Girls; Miss Elizabeth Barkley, former Lakewood High Latin and art teacher; and Bruce Baumnan and Tracy Herrick, Latin students at Lakewood High and S. P. Q. R. members.

The unusual feature of the French Club activities this year has been the presence of Miss Elise Moulinas, an exchange teacher from Paris, who has given the members a vivid understanding of life in France today by discussing conditions in that country and explaining movies and slides at several club meetings. Scenes from Moliere's play "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" were presented by French students from John Adams High School, guests at one meeting. For the Christmas program members gave a play, "Les Sabots du Petit Albert," and sang the traditional songs of the season. The other meetings consisted of quiz programs, charades, and a Mardi Gras program.

Members of Agassiz Club Visit Mink Farm

"There goes my fur coat!" said one of the Agassiz Club member while on the club field trip to a mink farm near Strongsville. A pure white mink, which won a national prize as a perfect specimen, was one of the special exhibits. One program was an exhibition of two trained Sheltie dogs by a Lakewood High student, Claire Brobst. Bob Metz showed color pictures of his vacation trip in several western states, and Ed Delfs, at the Christmas meeting at Eleanor Schmitt's home, showed the slide pictures taken on his two months' pack trip in the Sierras last summer. At a joint meeting of Agassiz and Newton, Mr. Burger showed three dimensional slide pictures of spring flowers and wild life. Agassiz Club operates a booth which offers fun for everyone at all-school parties. Miss Hiserodt and Mr. Wood sponsored activities of the Agassiz Club, whose active membership is interested in a variety of programs as shown above.

Newton Views Three Dimensional Pictures

Newton Society provides an outlet for the enthusiasms of Lakewood's amateur metallurgists, mineralogists, geologists, atomic physicists, astronomers, and all others who have or want specialized knowledge on the chemical or physical sciences above and beyond what is taught in the classroom. A typical example of what Mr. Boruff, the club sponsor, calls "the old Newtonian style" was the impromptu chalk talk on the fourth dimension by Joe Williams. Joe riveted the attention of his audience for forty minutes as he proved his theory.

In contrast to Joe's four-dimensional world, Mr. and Mrs. William Burger showed the club three-dimensional pictures of spring flowers. Mr. Burger's pictures have depth and aliveness due to focusing two cameras on the same object from minutely different angles. Newton manages to find an abundance of program material among its own members and so avoids an overdependence on outside speakers. Two of the club's sources of program material are talks by prospective Newtonites, who must give an entrance speech, and discussion by the club.

"The Photo Club proudly presents . . ." These were the opening words of the assembly program prepared by the club in the fall semester. Football was its theme, and humorous slides, prepared by Bob Leiblein and Ed Delfs, and the movie taken by Mr. Ralph A. Rood, the club sponsor, at the Collinwood game entertained both assembly divisions. Photo Club attempts to develop an interest for all in photography. The newer members are trained in darkroom technique, and more experienced members are taught how to use the 4x5 speed graphic acquired last year. After learning the fundamentals, members are recommended for work on the TIMES and CINEMA. During the spring semester Student Council voted to use \$300 for additional photographic and darkroom equipment including a 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ x 3 $\frac{1}{4}$ graphic camera, a copying camera, a print washer, an electric timer, pans, tray, attachments for enlarger, carrying case, safe lights, and flood lights. Members find this club gives them careful training for an interesting lifetime hobby.

Hi-Art Guild Captures Imaginative Spirit

Red, yellow, blue! This time the war paint covered not Indians but members of the Hi-Art Guild, for finger painting was a colorful occupation at one of their meetings. Slides of a trip to green Minnesota, a chewing-gum sculpture contest at which a turkey won first prize, an art quiz game were all on the Club's repertoire this year. "One draws a head, another constructs a body, and a third adds legs," are the directions for a paper game. Follow them, and what do you get? It is difficult to tell, for no such thing as a bird-cow-man has ever existed. Yet the members of the Art Guild have achieved startling results when they played the game. Along with the humor, however, is serious work. Betty Jean Funk, the spring president of the Guild, painted a large mural, which is now displayed in the commercial room 139. The mural pictures a typical small-town street in the early morning. Diverse posters announcing meetings and events to come have become more numerous throughout the school since the Guild has offered to paint all kinds of posters for clubs and other organizations at 50c each.

Promoting intelligent and safe driving and carrying out safety projects in and about school are the purposes of Auto Club. New fire exit signs are evidence of the emphasis on safety. Improving of parking facilities is another of their projects this year. Membership is open to anyone but is composed mostly of students taking the driving course. Movies and speakers are brought in occasionally to show students the necessity for safe and intelligent driving.

Home Ec Stresses Personality Development

The snip of scissors and the rustle of detached locks followed by the noisy "oh's" and "ah's"—these accompanied the visit of a local hair stylist at the Home Ec Club's winter meeting. Less modern, but still fun, was the ever-popular Halloween party, at which the girls donned familiar ghost costumes. These and other programs contributed to the social growth and personality development of the Home Ec members.

Home Ec Club officers Nancy Bening, president, Ardith Heck, vice-president, and June Taylor, secretary, interest prospective members in the club's more imaginative side.

W.S.T. Stimulates Students' Creative Talent

W. S. T.—Whitman for poetry, Scriblerus for writing, and Thespian for dramatics. To further develop their interest in and appreciation of poetry, the club invited Miss Katherine Moore to read some of her own verse. Her humorous and witty poems entertained and instructed the listeners. Several programs were devoted to improving writing techniques. During one meeting Donna Schwartz, president, posed while the group composed personality sketches about her.

Another time each member was given three silly objects about which to construct a story and two weeks in which to do it. Some of the results were amazing! Barbara Carl entered a short, short story titled "No Baby Sitter" in the Cleveland News Scholastic Writing Contest and received a portable typewriter as first prize. The dramatic interest of this group was satisfied by a field trip to the Karamu Theater to see "Androcles and the Lion."

The F. T. A. Furthers Tomorrow's Education

Such questions as "What college should I attend?" and "What courses should I take?" were answered by Mr. Cantrell, principal of McKinley school, Miss Dickey, elementary school teacher, and Mrs. Howard, elementary supervisor in the Lakewood schools, speakers at meetings of the Mark Hopkins Chapter of FTA. Each year arrangements are made for senior members of the chapter to observe classes in the elementary schools. Information about teaching as a career was given in movies at several meetings.

Club Finds Fun in Practical Uses of Math

J. Mathiot, E. Jenkins, J. Jefferies, D. O'Heren marvel as P. Way demonstrates the electric calculating machine.

A booth at an All-School Party, a field trip to radio station WLAL, demonstrations of the slide rule and calculating machine, voice recordings, and a Christmas Party are some of the representative activities of the Math Club in the fall semester. A demonstration by Bill Ragland of magic tricks involving mathematics highlighted one of the early meetings, while contests, games, a talent show, picnic occupied the spring semester.

Hi-Commercial Members Test Typing Skills

Electric typewriters, typing contests, "How to Get a Job and How to Get a Man," and selling defense stamps were some of the diversified projects and discussions of the Hi-Commercial Club this year. One of the speakers, Miss Mary Pajunas, demonstrated the electric typewriter, typing one hundred and sixty words a minute, a speed that all commercial students would like to attain. A typing contest sponsored by the Hi-Commercial Club was won by Monda Lee Shipman, fall semester secretary and spring semester president of the club, who typed eighty-three words a minute. "How to Get a Job and How to Get a Man" was the topic for a speech by Mrs. Washburn, a Lakewood High alumna. Homeroom salesmen, working with a committee from the Hi-Commercial Club, are in charge of selling defense stamps, and sales have increased this year.

The parade of the social scene

Preparations for the All-School party . . . the tables around the dance floor . . . refreshments at intermission . . . selling programs at the game . . . dress rehearsals for senior activities . . . Open House . . . the magazine drive . . . the tank pageant . . . the Broomstick Brigade . . . the first Lakewood football dances . . . trimming the Christmas tree . . . this is the social scene.

All-school parties mean nights of dancing, of frolics at the riotous booths, of splashing excitement in the pool, and of talent shows which present anything from amateur student crooners to paid professional bands and orchestras.

School Party Fun

Upper left: Barbara tests her steadiness and patience as she fishes for the Pepsi bottle in a game at one of the booths at an all-school party.

Upper right: Enjoying refreshments at tables around the dance floor in the gym added a note of sophistication to all-school parties this year.

Bottom: Boys and their best girls join in their favorite Lakewood recreation—dancing to the music of a popular band at an all-school party.

Upper left: It's time out for potato chips and cold coke. When the dance floor becomes crowded, the dancers head for the popular food stand.

Upper right: "Goodbye, My Coney Island Baby" was the classical rendition of this sinister quartet disguised in villainous handlebar mustaches.

Lower left: Bev Weir, Barb Burkett, John Carr, and John Cantrell of the social committee put up art class decorations for an entertaining evening.

Lower right: The coronation of Sally Watters and Jack Woods by Mr. and Mrs. Povenmire marked the high spot at the Thanksgiving Football Dance.

The gay party spirit is heightened by the last minute commotion created by making plans and arranging decorations for every school dance—from the informal "Broomstick Brigade" to the dignified traditional annual Christmas Dance.

Dance Dates

The clock begins to tick for another game of football, bringing with it a full night of excitement and fun for Lakewoodites. Screaming fans fill the stadium and later crowd around the refreshment stands for hot dogs, hot chocolate, and cokes.

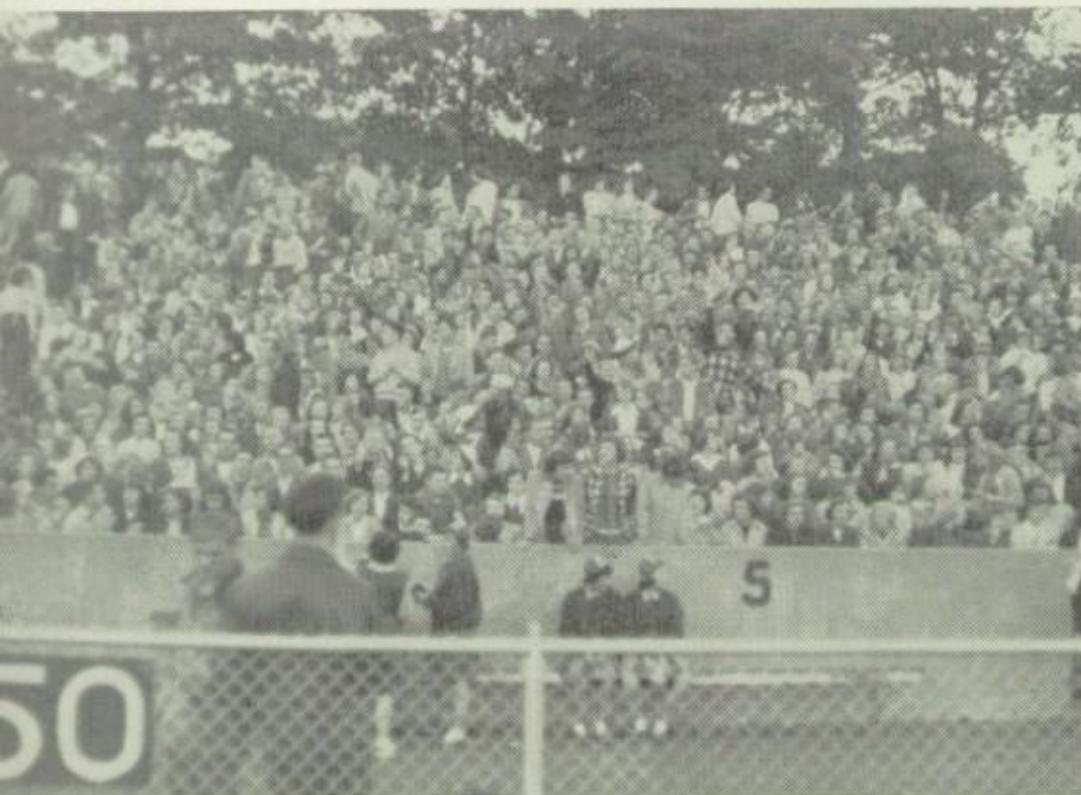

'Fight Team Fight'

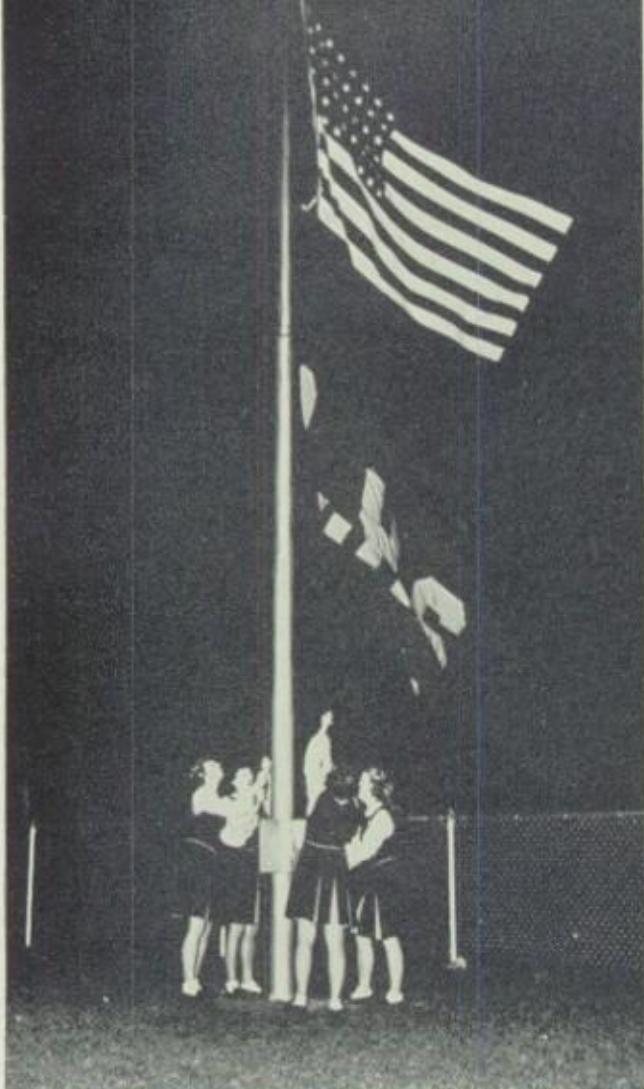

Upper left: "We want a touchdown!" scream Ranger fans as they pack the stands for the first night game ever to be presented on Lakewood's field.

Lower left: At half-time, cold and hungry Lakewoodites gang up at the food stand for hot dogs and hot cocoa to renew their energy for cheering.

Lower right: Hi-Y refreshments salesmen prepare to pacify the hungry mob with cider and coke so the fans may boost the Rangers to another victory.

Upper left: "Oh, say can you see"—familiar strains of the national anthem, rise as the flag is raised on the new pole by the Lakewood High cheerleaders.

Upper right top: The new stadium lights illuminate the field for night football games and make the half-time performances more spectacular.

Upper right bottom: A half-time program dedicating the stadium lights, included modern dancers and others presenting all phases of athletics.

Lower left: A huff and a puff by members of the Student Council recreation committee, and up go the balloons to decorate for a football dance.

Lower right: Scrambling for balloons as they were cut loose from the ceiling helped to warm up the fans after a cold, wet night of football.

Gay, Loyal Fans

This year new features added sparkle to the football games. The stadium lights illuminated the field for spectacular plays and band exhibitions, and after-game dances provided entertainment for fans, Lakewood alumni, and team members.

Before the curtain rises for another entertaining Lakewood play, Barnstormers nervously straighten costumes, check make-up touches, and rehearse cues backstage, ready for the big moment after many grueling weeks of preparation.

'Curtain Goes Up'

Top: Policeman Loux says "Papa" Babin will go to jail, to the horror of "Mama" Cannel, "Jake" Overmeyer, "Mrs. Yoder" Ellms, and "Emmy" Bemis.

Lower left: "I'll learn you to go out without my give the darst." "Papa" takes the snake whipe to daughter "Emma," while son "Jake" intervenes.

Lower right: "It does not! It goes over here!" "Props" committee Harry Howarth and Donna Schwartz wage the battle of the bulb for "Papa Is All."

Upper right: "Do it over!" said Mary Ellen Dobben, play director and program chairman, as the girls prepared a skit for a Friendship meeting.

Lower left: Lakewoodites find that the basement hall in the main building is a good place to meet friends, catch up on homework, or just loaf.

Lower right: Crash! Boom! Crash! Bob Ackermann pounds away on the piano, while Dick O'Heren slaps the bass fiddle at an all-school party show.

Merry Moments

Whether comparing latest gossip while sitting on the floor in the basement hall or pounding out on the piano some new "boogie woogie" composition for a talent show, Lakewoodites find school life activities leave them with few dull moments.

With final exams over senior week begins. The whirl of excitement commences with baccalaureate, continues through hilarious class night activities, and rushes on with formals, flowers, and open-houses at the junior-senior, senior prom.

Seniors A-Whirl

Upper right: Martha Smith finds that Scotty Johnson, the "wolf," takes the rehearsal of a script much too seriously in a scene from the senior play.

Lower right: Stunned by Bill Hartrick wielding a phone book, Al Hausman is captured by cops Maisch, Krumreig in "Remember the Hollow Globe."

Top: Seniors await the beginning of "Pomp and Circumstance" to march in the parade that marks the climax to their high school careers—graduation.

Lower left: Mr. Bixler, who has planned 56 of Lakewood's 98 commencements, tells Dave Reppa his position in the diploma parade on January 19, 1950.

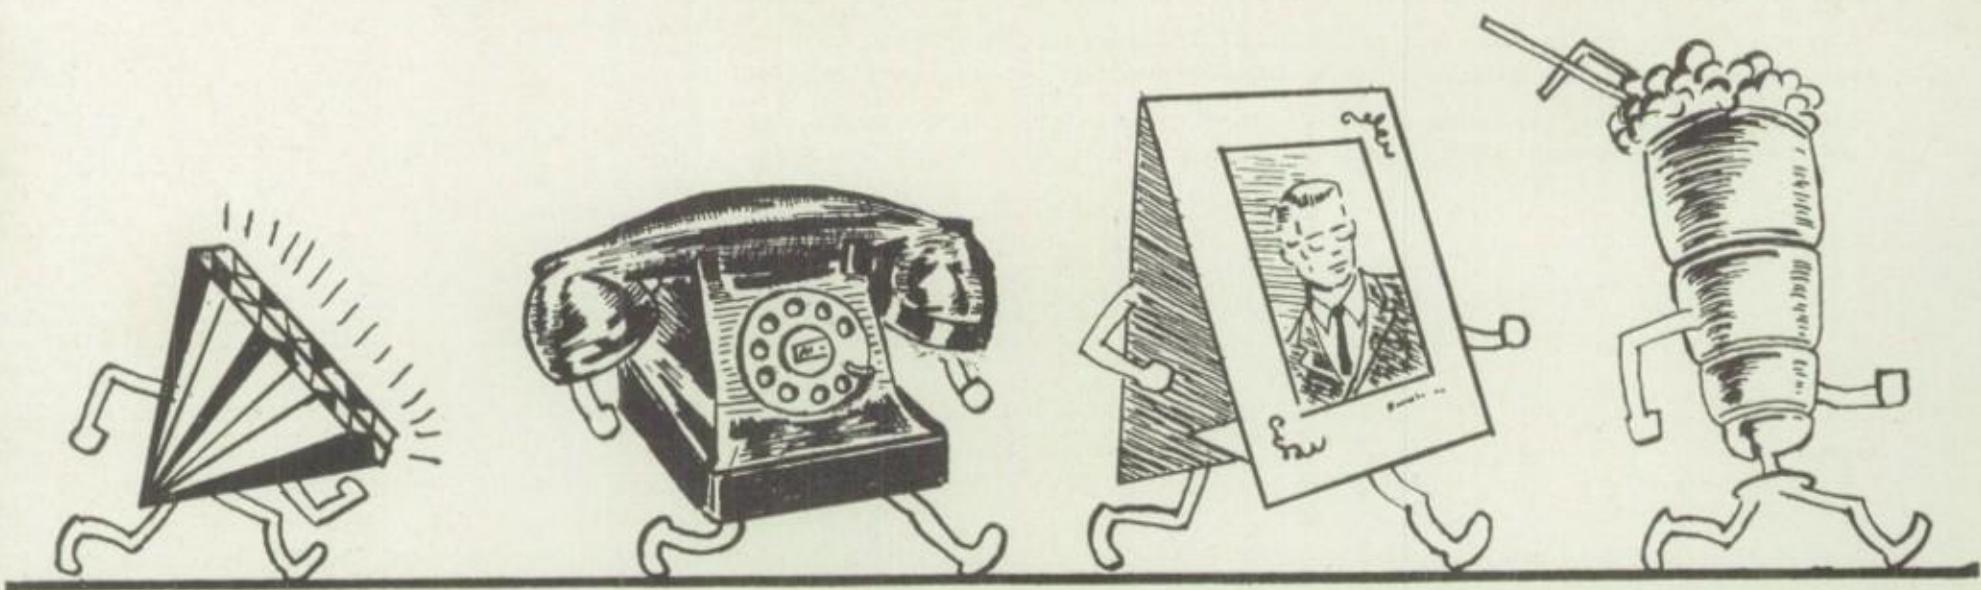

Lower right: After graduation Mr. Povenmire and Mr. Essex congratulate speakers Barb Burket, John Martindale, Dick Jones, and Donna Parobeck.

Parade Passes

With the other activities ended, seniors face the final and most important event of school life—graduation. Receiving their diplomas, the graduates in caps and gowns see the parade of high school days at Lakewood pass on into memory.

The parade of things to buy

Window shopping for your future car . . . grabbing a snack after the show . . . the senior pictures . . .
choosing the right style of class ring . . . buying that corsage for your best girl . . . "Fill 'er up" for that out of town game . . . the Thursday night bowling game . . .
landing ungracefully while trying to skate backwards . . . the horn-rimmed glasses . . . "Thank you" to our advertisers.

Again This Year!

... and that seems to be everyone's opinion. YOUR INTEREST AND WHOLE-HEARTED COOPERATION have made this season one of the most pleasant in the entire history of "The Rink."

We at Winterhurst are looking forward to seeing all of you again next winter for a repetition of these mutually happy hours.
